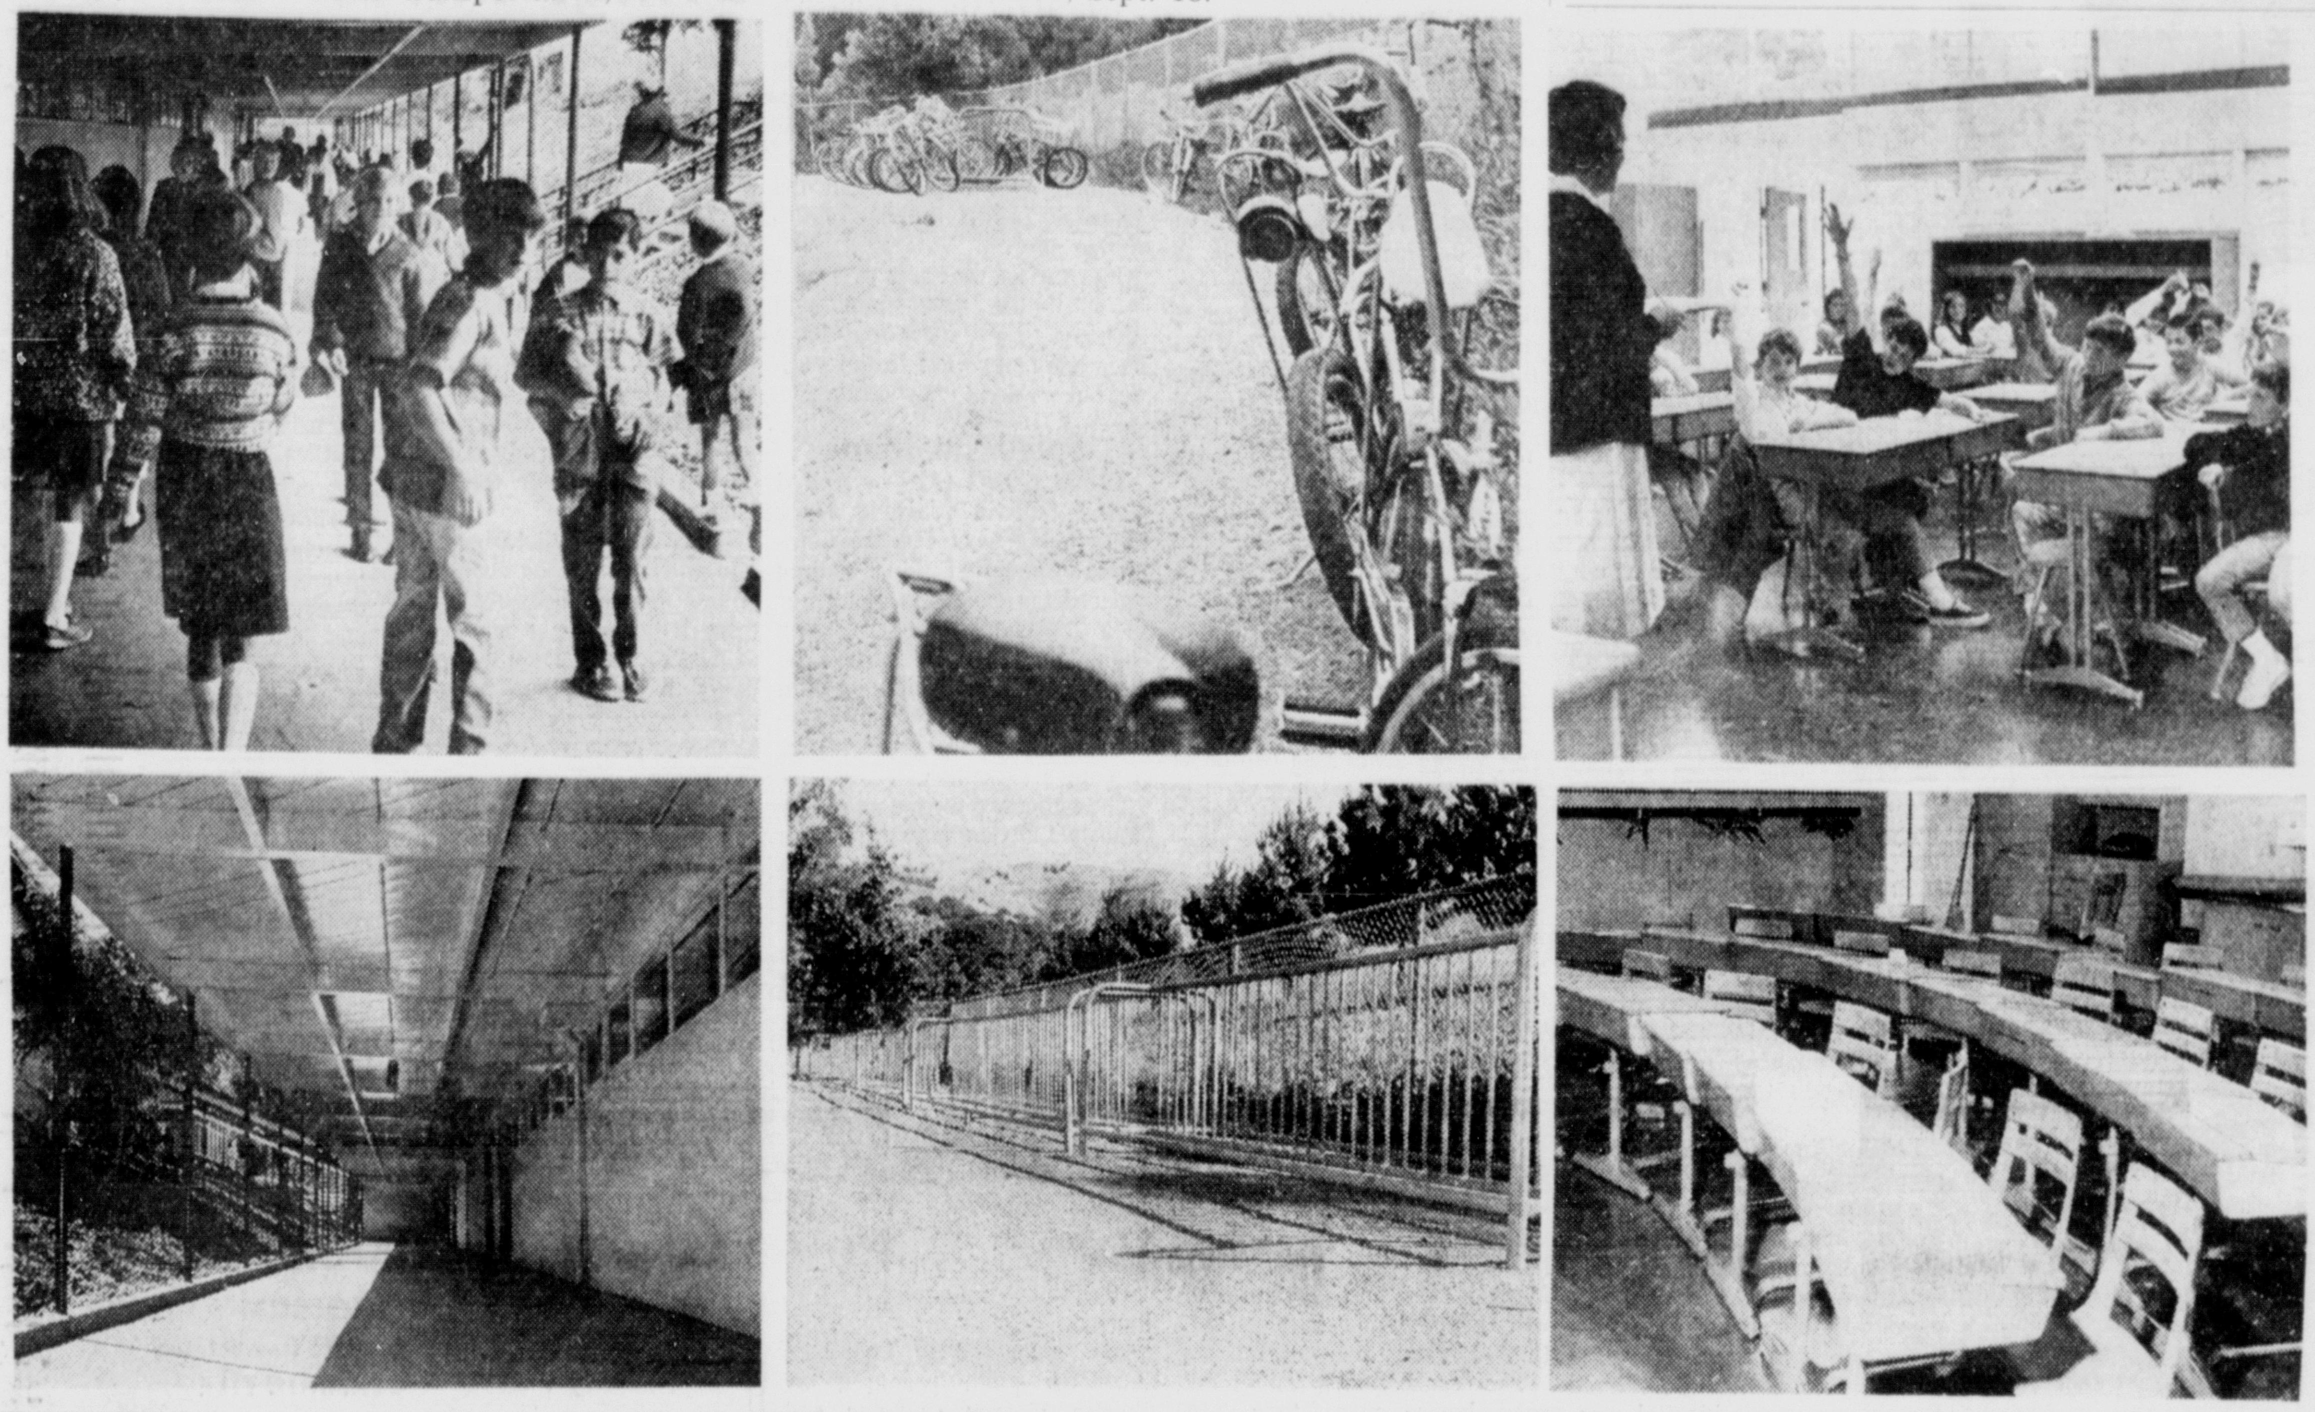
WHAT A DIFFERENCE A DAY MAKES

Today's tour of Reed School in Tiburon by Independent-Journal Photographer Bob Hax was like a visit to another world as the pregnant stillness, caught in the bottom photos published in yesterday's I-J, gave way to the clamor and chatter of children reporting for the first day of school. Today, (top photos) the peaceful porch was filled with scurrying, sometimes bewildered youngsters; the bike racks lost their pristine look as they enfolded the kids' transportation; and the lonely classroom of yesterday became warm and alive with enthusiastic fifth and sixth graders responding animatedly to their teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Abrahamson. The transformation also occurred today in Union, Tomales Bay and Tomales High School; all Catholic elementary schools, Marin Catholic High and Dominican College. Most other schools in the county will take on a new look of life next Tuesday. San Rafael Military Academy will open Friday and Katharine Branson, Sept. 18.



Tremor Jolts Turkey; Fear Of Many Deaths

Quake Toll In Iran Mostly In North

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI)—A severe earthquake hit northwestern Turkey today, wrecking villages and spreading panic across a 300-mile stretch of country. Authorities said they feared a major disaster — the second earthquake disaster within four days.

Earthquakes in Iran killed an estimated 20,000 persons Saturday and Sunday. That area of devastation was in northeastern Iran near the borders of Soviet Russia and hundreds of miles east of today's Turkish earthquake.

Officials in Istanbul said they feared a heavy death toll. They said by 2 p.m. (5 a.m. PDT) 10 persons were known dead and 200 injured in and around the village of Bartin, near the Black Sea coast. This is 180 miles east of Istanbul and 130 miles north of Ankara.

ON BLACK SEA

The Turkish quake hit at 10:22 a.m. The U.S. Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA) in Washington said the quake was centered about 240 miles northeast of Istanbul along the Black Sea coast.

"Initial reports indicate some fatalities and damage in the area around the city of Zonguldag," the ESSA said. It said the quake registered 6.3 on the Richter scale.

The stricken Turkish area stretched from east of Bartin, apparently the worst hit village, along the Black Sea coastal region to Canakkale, near the Dardanelles Strait. Istanbul also felt the shock, but no damage was reported in the city.

The death toll in Iran's weekend quake was the highest since Dec. 27, 1939, when 23,000 persons were killed in Turkey.

MASS GRAVES

Reports from Tehran said bodies in white Moslem shrouds were being buried in mass graves while children appealed to Allah for the return of their loved ones.

And still the mangled ground trembled. The toll rose past 20,000 dead and 50,000 injured. More than 100,000 persons lacked homes. Authorities battled

McKeithen Quits Support Of Humphrey

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. John J. McKeithen, who backed the presidential nomination of Hubert Humphrey, said today he could not in good conscience further support the vice president.

McKeithen told a news conference that he and Humphrey had many differences, but cited the major one as Humphrey's statement at the Democratic National Convention concerning the appointment of U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The governor said Humphrey "stated that he believed that former President Eisenhower's greatest contribution to this nation was naming Earl Warren Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court."

"I consider this appointment by Mr. Eisenhower to be one of the worst made by any president in our nation's history as I believe that the Supreme Court, under Mr. Warren, has done more to weaken the Constitution of the United States and dilute the true meaning of democracy, specifically with reference to law and order, than any other single factor in this land.

"I shall not support the nominees of the Democratic national party.

"At this time, I have no plans of participating in the national election."

McKeithen said he endorsed Humphrey's bid for the nomination because of personal friendship and respect, mutual backgrounds as alumni of Louisiana State University, and 'because I knew him to be a safe and moderate alternative to radical leftist, anarchists and Communist elements who were seeking to gain control of the party."

Board Favors New Flood Control Route

Marin County supervisors today declared unanimously they want a change in the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project so that an underground drainage would be built along Woodland Avenue in Kent Woodlands instead of concreting the existing Tamalpais Creek.

Such a change would increase the cost of the Kent Woodlands project by about $100,000, Col. Frank C. Beorger of the Army Corps of Engineers estimated.

On a motion by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, supervisors said they look with disfavor on concreting Tamalpais Creek and directed the county staff to contact the corps of engineers to see if a new contract can be worked out to drop the Tamalpais Creek plan and put in a drainage project along Woodland Avenue. Supervisors also authorized Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen to contact representatives in Congress to get as much federal aid as possible for the $100,000 extra cost. Colonel Boerger warned that federal funds for the extra cost is not very likely. At the most, he said, a 25 per cent federal outlay is the best that can be expected.

Supervisors also asked the residents of Kent Woodlands to see how much money, if any, they could contribute for the

Romania Breathing Easier; Soviet Intervention Cools

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Prospects of a Soviet invasion of Romania were reported to be diminishing today as both sides appeared to have called a truce in their feud over the five-power occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Western diplomats said there was less apprehension in high government and Communist party circles now that the Soviet Union has formally denied rumors about plans for a military intervention.

"It seems that for the time being there are no prospects of an intervention," one senior diplomat said.

The regime of President Nicolae Ceausescu continued to observe strict silence in line with its policy of refraining from polemics.

Officials refused to indicate whether the government has received any Soviet assurances of nonintervention since the denials were made public in Washington and Paris.

The Communist-controlled press has toned down its criticism of the invasion of Czechoslovakia while maintaining a

Does 'Bad' Arrest Harm, Aid Law?

By JIM BREWER

(Second of three articles)

The practice of liberally arresting persons suspected of marijuana possession may be doing law enforcement as much harm as good, some members of the judicial process in Marin report.

Noting that an increase in arrests does not necessarily mean an increase in crime, some officials are worried about the over-all effect narcotics arrests are having on the drug problem in Marin.

Th first six months of this year saw an increase in marijuana arrests, with District Attorney Bruce B. Bales and his staff weeding out 43 of the 150 adult arrests recorded. In addition to the 43, the arresting agencies themselves preferred not to proceed with 14 other cases.

Routinely, these persons were photographed, fingerprinted and jailed. Even if released the following day without charges, an arrest included a temporary loss of freedom, a permanent arrest record and publicity which may have embarrassed both the individual and his family.

Law enforcement officials claim their arrest procedures are effectively reducing the marijuana traffic in Marin and have driven the price of the weed up 50 per cent.

But Alvin H. Goldstein, the presiding judge of Marin Municipal Court who has seen an increasing number of bad arrest cases come before him in recent months, believes this does not have a deterrent effect and only stirs resentment and disrespect for justice and the law.

In rousting an innocent person, he reported, "you may sour a potentially good citizen. Many of these people are using marijuana to rebel, not because they like it," he said, adding that "an arrest can be made an extremely detrimental thing to an individual."

Richard H. Breiner, a deputy public defender who has represented a number of those arrested for alleged marijuana possession, talked about a sort of "legal harassment" by police, which he said is taking place around the county.

"Police officers stop anybody who looks like he might be in possession," he said, adding that officers say they look for hippie-types driving cars with some defect. "They'll stop it and run a record check, hoping to get a chance to conduct a search," he said.

He cited a recent marijuana possession case in which the court ruled an illegal search took place. According to Breiner, the officer stopped a multi-colored truck, which he reported had no front license plate, searched the vehicle and found a small quantity of the weed.

The search was ruled illegal because the car, in fact, did have a front license plate.

In court, the arresting officer gave this reason for stopping the vehicle and conducting the search: "The exterior of the vehicle was painted psychedelic . . . These types are usually driven by hippie individuals." Other reasons given for the search was presence of "phychedelic or leligious symbols" and "peace symbols."

Breiner said that despite the publicity that marijuana dealers are being apprehended, those coming to his attention are caught with "an infinitesimal quantity." Of those arrests resulting in no action by the district attorney, he said, "they're usually not cases where the officer sees a felony committed. Prior to the search, you'll usually find he didn't know at all."

Inspector Richard A. Douglas, in charge of narcotics investigations for the San Rafael Police Department, said experienced patrol officers develop a "sixth sense" in detecting suspicious persons. But he added that courts have not recognized it. "There has to be a valid reason to stop a vehicle," he said.

Despite the inspector's claim, in the campaign to rid the county of illicit drug traffic

Last Czech Protests To Invaders Crumble

PRAGUE (AP) — The last stronghold of Czechoslovak public protest against the Soviet occupation crumbled today as liberal leaders charted a careful course aimed at an early withdrawal of foreign troops.

Bowing to a one-hour Soviet ultimatum, youths abandoned an honor guard at the St. Wenceslas monument which had become a national shrine when a 14-year-old boy was killed there by Russian bullets on the first day of the invasion.

The crowd which usually surrounded the flower-decked statue quickly dispersed after Czechoslovak police warned that the Russians threatened to "send a tank to clear the place."

Informed sources said Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek told the party's central committee not enough attention had been paid to "the opinions of other states in the Warsaw Pact as a limiting factor in the speed and forms of our own political development."

The new, predominantly liberal 21-man Communist party presidium—elected Sunday—met yesterday with instructions from the central committee to work for both speedy withdrawal of the 650,000 occupation troops and implementation of the reform program begun in January.

Dubcek's speech was interpreted as a warning to the reformers to go slow. It also appeared to be traditional Communist self-criticism for not anticipating the Soviet intervention.

Doctors To Halt Reports On Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was reported so well on the road to recovery from his seventh heart attack today that daily reports on his condition are being discontinued.

In a bulletin which will be the last unless he takes a turn for the worse, Walter Reed Army Medical Center said "General Eisenhower had a comfortable night. Progress continues to be favorable."

At one time the 77-year-old general's condition was described as "extremely critical" but he has shown steady progress since the middle of last week.

CURFEW VIOLATOR — A young woman last night ignored the curfew imposed on Berkeley following outbursts by youths demanding closing of Telegraph Avenue to car traffic. Berkeley police carried her from the area after she refused to move on. (AP Wirephoto).

State Of Civil Disaster In Berkeley

BERKELEY (AP) — City Manager William C. Hanley has declared a state of civil disaster in this university city following two days of violence on Telegraph Avenue.

Hanley took the action yesterday saying that because of the "state of disaster" he was prohibiting loitering on the avenue between 8 p.m. and 6 a.m. as well as assembles, parades and the use of amplifiers on city streets or other public property.

Hanley acted after a bombing broke a water main Sunday night and a policeman was shot in the leg and four other patrolmen were injured Friday. That outbreak followed a rally protesting police action in Chicago during the Democratic National Convention.

During the two nights of violence 30 persons were arrested.

Young activists are seeking to turn two blocks of Telegraph Avenue into a pedestrian mall.

The avenue is a narrow street lined with small shops and bookstores that runs southward from the University of California campus.

The avenue was relatively quiet last night as police enforced the new restriction. Leaders of activist and militant groups could not be reached immediately for comment.

Police used tear gas Sunday night to clear away a crowd that was attracted by the explosion that shattered windows, broke the water main and tore a hole in a building under construction. No cause for the blast has yet been found.

Concerning the activists, Police Capt. Vic Vieira said: "They just want the street for rallies and dances and they want us out of there."

"Some are students, but not all, and many are not even Berkeley residents," he continued.

Police Inspector Robert Beren named the groups that sponsored the Friday night rally that preceded the disturbance, but said that demonstration was completed before trouble began.

"We have a difficult time pinpointing the trouble makers," he said. "You can't blame it on any single organization."

Some organizations believe in more violence than others and some persons taking part "are members of no organizations," he said.

The groups that sponsored the rally Friday were the Black Panthers, a militant Negro group, the Students for a Democratic Society, the International Socialist Association, the Young Socialist Alliance and the Peace and Freedom Party.

Telegraph was the scene of disturbances from June 28 to July 2 during demands for the pedestrian mall and Hanley issued a report last week saying they were caused by revolutionary and anarchist groups trying to force confrontations with police.

Mayor Wallace Johnson, in a statement Monday night, contended a detective had seen an unidentified man fire a pistol at a television cameraman on a roof. No cameraman was hit.

In his statement, the mayor said: "At 9:08 p.m. activists pulled the switch on the street lights at Haste and Telegraph. At 9:25 p.m. activists fired a cameraman . . . 'At 11:56 p.m. camraman. . . 'At 11:56 p.m. five pistol shots were fired at a group of Berkeley policemen. Sgt. Tom Haley went down with a bullet in his leg."

Conspiracy Organized Disturbances: Reagan

At an airport news conference, Reagan said yesterday the "conspiracy" planned the disturbances and "it's time that all of us quit pretending this is just a spontaneous outburst of youthful agitation."

"This is a plot," he said. "There is a conspiratorial side to it. We might as well wake up to the fact that there is a plan to all of this."

The governor identified one of the participants in the Chicago disorder as Jerry Rubin, and said he also "managed to show up" during recurring outbursts at Berkeley.

Reagan said his administration planned to take action "to see that those planners and that conspiracy do not disrupt things in our state."

He said the demonstrators threw sharpened tiles and potatoes embedded with razor blades at police.

"I think we were up against a professional job," Reagan said.

The Republican governor spoke to newsmen as he returned to Sacramento from Southern California. He has been on a working vacation since he attended the Republican National Convention in early August.

Deaths In Holiday Traffic Reach A Record Of 660

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

More persons than ever before died on the nation's highways this Labor Day holiday.

The count continued early today, long after the 78-hour holiday officially ended at midnight, surpassing the high toll of the last two years and meeting the grim predictions of auto safety authorities.

Late reports of traffic accidents boosted the toll to 660, surpassing the 1966 record of 636. The 1967 toll was 606.

The National Safety Council had estimated that between 575 to 675 would die on the highways during the holiday, which began at 6 p.m. Friday.

"It's pretty horrible," a Safety Council spokesman said, "and it's within the range we estimated."

At 7 a.m. PDT, United Press International counted a total of 839 deaths during the long, last holiday of summer.

The breakdown:

Traffic:	660
Drownings:	76
Planes:	18
Miscellaneous:	85
Total:	839

Illinois led in traffic deaths with 47. Michigan had 46, Texas and California 45 each, Pennsylvania 31, Ohio 30 and New York 28.

The worst accident occurred Sunday near Jamestown, N.D., when eight teen-agers were killed in a two-car crash.

Nominee's Wife Is Attacked

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mrs. William D. Ruckelshaus, wife of the Republican nominee for U.S. senator in Indiana, was raped and robbed in the family home here early today, police said.

Ruckelshaus, 35, who is opposing Democratic Sen. Birch Bayh, was campaigning out of town at the time.

Mrs. Ruckelshaus, the mother of five children, was examined at an Indianapolis hospital and released, police said.

Her assailant also stole an undetermined amount of money from the family home, police said.

Ukiah Killing Trial May Be Postponed

SAN JOSE (AP)— Postponement of the murder trial of two Washington state youths for a week was likely today following an accident in which a defense attorney broke his leg while deer hunting.

Mendocino County Dist. Atty. Arthur B. Broaddus said he would request the trial be continued until Sept. 10. The injured defense attorney is John Roulos who represents Leonard Maine, 20.

Maine and Thomas E. Braun are being tried on charges of murdering Timothy Luce, 17, near Ukiah in August, 1967.

They also face charges of kidnaping, raping and attempting to murder Susan Bartolomei, 18, who remains almost wholly paralyzed from gunshot wounds and communicates by blinking her eyes or moving a finger.

A change of venue from Mendocino County was ordered after the State Supreme Court ruled a fair trial in Ukiah was doubtful.

The trial, now in its third week, had not passed the jury selection stage when Superior Court Judge Joseph Kelley recessed for the Labor Day weekend last Wednesday.

Braun and Maine also are accused of murdering Mrs. Deanna Buse, 22, who was killed in Snohomish County, Wash., and Sam Ledgerwood of Portland, Ore., who was found slain in a forest in Northwest Oregon.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

European Branch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee is setting up a branch in Europe to get out the absentee vote and raise money among Americans living there.

National Chairman Ray C. Bliss said yesterday about two million Americans, including servicemen, live in Europe. He said subsidiary committees to seek their support will operate in France, Germany, Belgium, the United Kingdom and Italy.

Birth Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington-area Catholic priests who have been warned they may face canonical penalties unless they retract dissent to Pope Paul's encyclical on birth control say they will seek a grievance hearing.

Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle issued the warning yesterday to 52 priests who signed a statement saying married couples under some circumstances may use artificial contraception "according to their consciences."

Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam's two top envoys at the Paris peace talks today ruled out any chances of an early breakthrough towards a cease-fire.

Le Duc Tho, a member of the presidium of North Vietnam's Communist party, and Ambassador Xuan Thuy, Hanoi's chief negotiator, also told newsmen separately they see no essential differences in the Vietnam policies adopted by the American Democratic and Republican presidential contenders.

Czech Defects

TOKYO (AP) — A Czechoslovak scientist who attended the 12th International Congress of Genetics here apparently has defected to the United States.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman declined to officially classify Dr. Jan Klein, 33, as a defector. He said that Klein came to the embassy Thursday and applied for a visa to do research work at the University of Michigan under a grant.

However, other U.S. and Japanese officials said Klein was "obviously a defector." They pointed out that the embassy followed formalities usually taken in the case of defections, including filing a report with the Japanese police.

Mideast Sniping

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian army said two of its soldiers were killed last night in the second clash in three days across the usually quiet Syrian-Israeli cease-fire line.

A military communique said Israeli troops in armored cars started the 20-minute machine gun battle. Israeli casualties, if any, were not known in Damascus.

Student Strikes

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A spokesman for Mexico City's striking students said last night the students do not oppose holding the Olympic games in Mexico City but despite them will keep demonstrating until their demands are met.

The spokesman's statement, read before more than 2,500 students, was in answer to President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz' state of the nation address Sunday.

Diaz Ordaz gave in to some student demands, including reaffirmation of university autonomy, but said government patience with student disorders was at an end and nothing "illegal or troublesome" could force cancellation of the games, scheduled to start Oct. 12.

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Damages to Italian universities during the students riots last spring totaled $8 million, education ministry sources said today.

Out Of Jail

CHICAGO (AP) — Civil rights activist Dick Gregory is the only person left in jaul of the 583 persons arrested in demonstrations last week during the Democratic National Convention, a spokesman for the Chicago Legal Defense Committee says.

"As far as we know everyone is out," the spokesman said Monday. "Now, there may have been one or two lost in the shuffle, but we don't know of any."

Spied On Mao

HONG KONG (AP) — A Red Guard bulletin reaching Hong Kong today says Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung ordered the execution of former Vice Foreign Minister Yang Shang-kun in 1967 after he discovered Yang spied on him for Russia.

This is the first known report of Yang's execution.

The bulletin purportedly published in Canton in July, says Yang had installed a large number of secret listening devices and tiny tape recorders in the flower pots and the sofas in Mao's offices and rooms, and in his private cars.

Tiburon Planners To Meet Tomorrow

The Tiburon Planning Commission will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall, not tonight as reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The proposed Tiburon downtown plan, prepared by Charles Warren Callister and associates and modified by planning consultant George Gatter, is scheduled to be adopted.

Rioting In San Diego Brings Arrest Of 70

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Police arrested more than 70 persons in quelling a series of Labor Day disturbances in the Ocean Beach area where a bonfire was ignited in an intersection and cars were pelted with eggs and bottles.

One officer suffered a broken foot and another a fractured arm when they were struck by objects flung from a crowd of about 200 persons who gathered about 5 p.m. yesterday in a residential section near the public beach.

Police said the disturbance began when youths on rooftops of homes began throwing water-filled balloons, eggs and bottles at passing cars. They were soon joined by others on the street below who hurled rocks and bottles at police cars arriving at the scene.

When the crowd failed to disperse, police declared an unlawful assembly and began making arrests. Officers said 32 persons most of them young adults, were picked up.

The area, located between Mission Beach and Point Loma, remained calm but tense until 9 p.m. when another crowd formed at an intersection. Soon a bonfire fueled with trash and furniture was burning in the street and police again declared an unlawful assembly.

About 60 officers marched down the street toward the crowd which was tossing firecrackers into the bonfire and throwing bottles through the windows of parked cars.

Forty persons, 15 of them juveniles, were picked up during the second sweep of the area.

Those arrested were booked on charges which included drunkenness, assault with a deadly weapon, incitement to riot, and disturbing the peace. Police said a majority were from San Diego.

Authorities said many homes in the area were rented to young people for the Labor Day weekend and that those who started the disturbance apparently had been drinking on the rooftops of the houses.

Major Labor Boss Likes Humphrey

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — W.A. (Tony) Boyle, president of the 150,000-member United Mine Workers of America, said last night Hubert H. Humphrey is his choice for president.

The UMW starts its 45th consecutive constitutional convention here tomorrow.

"I have never at any time been for anyone except Humphrey," said Boyle, in a relaxed mood after a day of preconvention sightseeing.

Boyle said he had made no prior public announcement of his support, but "I've been for Humphrey since President Johnson announced he was not going to run, and that includes when Robert Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy and George McGovern were in the race."

The 2,200 delegates represent coal miners in 25 states.

Boyle said he is hopeful negotiators can hammer out a new contract with the Bituminous Coal Operations Association before the current agreement expires Sept. 30.

W. A. BOYLE
Miner favors Demos

"I'm optimistic we'll make it without a strike, but it won't be until they're up against the gun—the last day, the last minute," he said.

But he didn't rule out the possibility of a walkout. In 1966, he said, "there was a 23-day strike over 25 cents. They asked for it and they got it."

He said the UMW has told the operators it is willing to grant a week's "grace" following the Sept. 30 expiration date, but after that if there is no contract, "it's anybody's guess."

Boyle declined to discuss specific plans for wage increase demands, beyond saying they would be "substantial, to cover cost of living increases."

He said the UMW negotiating team also has declined to present wage proposals to the operators until the completion of current talks on fringe benefits and other areas of the contract the union feels should be clarified.

The union's wage increase request, the No. 1 priority in the new contract, will depend on what progress is made in the other areas, Boyle said. The current UMW miner's pay is $30 a day for a work day that, substracting portal-to-portal travel time and lunch, is something less than seven hours.

Lynch Gives His Support To Bud Baar

Richard J. Lynch of Corte Madera, who finished third in the four-man race for supervisor from the Fourth District in the June primary election, has thrown his support to Louis H. (Bud) Baar for the November election.

Baar will be running against the incumbent, Thomas T. Storer, who failed to win a majority in June. Storer received 5,189 votes, Baar 4,569, Lynch 502, and the fourth man, Michael D. Healy, 271.

In a telegram to Baar, Lynch today said, "I thank all the people who supported me, and hope they will support and work for you in the election in November. If you are elected, I am sure the taxes will get lower as you have done in San Rafael."

Lynch evidently referred to the 4-cent drop in San Rafael city tax rate, which was set August 1 at 86 cents per $100 assessed evaluation.

Ambassador Now In Poland

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Walter J. Stoessel Jr., a career diplomat in Soviet and European affairs, arrived today to assume the post of U.S. ambassador to Poland.

Stoessel succeeds John A. Gronouski, who left in May to help in Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's election campaign.

Asked by newsmen if his arrival represented a change in American policy toward Poland or a continuation of President Johnson's bridge-building policy with Eastern Europe, Stoessel replied: "There is no special timing of my arrival. It was planned months ago. We want to keep the lines of communication open."

Chain's Co-Op Shows Profit In Hunters Point

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Safeway Stores says it has turned a profit for what may become one of its competitors—the Hunters Point Co-op.

Safeway, a grocery chain, offered help to the Negro district store on June 6, the day Sen. Robert Kennedy died, and announced yesterday the co-op had at last shown a profit.

Mel Thomas, appointed by Safeway to manage the store, declared: "For the first time in three years the store has made a profit."

"This is sort of a tribute to Senator Kennedy," he added.

Thomas, who first brought in other Safeway employees to operate the store, has since hired six replacements, all from the community. Last week he hired Willie L. Scott, a former assistant store manager in Hayward, to take his place.

Quentin Reynolds, Safeway president, who ordered his firm to help the co-op, said he hoped to give Hunters Point a store that was truly its own. He also said that if the store was successful, it could provide jobs and apprentice training for Negro youths.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Saigon Men Face Miniskirt Revolt

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnam's conservative elders are shocked. Saigon's intellectual community is in an uproar.

Despite the war, the rain and the weight of tradition, the "minijupe"—known most other places as the miniskirt—has arrived.

Saigon has spawned a generation of teenyboppers who cavort on the rain-splashed city streets in mod attire. They add brilliant splashes of color to the drab, war-tinted thoroughfares.

But most Vietnamese males don't seem to approve. Expressing an Oriental distaste for exhibitionism, particularly when the prying eyes of foreigners are around, one writer to a Saigon newspaper said: "These children, these flowers would wilt without their marijuana. They are obscene."

Like many others, he yearns for the continued use of the ao dai, Vietnam's traditional garb that girls strolled in along the once-graceful French boulevards of Saigon and Hanoi. A long white or flowered silk skirt slit at each side revealed loose white silk trousers and met, at a tiny waist, a bodice with a high collar and long sleeves.

Nowadays, the young Vietnamese girl may have thongs tied up her calves, a tiny miniskirt hugged to her thighs with a low-slung leather belt, topped off by a tight sweater.

VIETNAMESE STYLES ARE CHANGING

She will splash through the puddles on Tu Do St., tilting her heels at the U.S. military policemen inside the barbed wire of American billets, or giggling from a motorcycle as she roars past in traffic, the flash of a thigh visible.

The ao dai is still worn in Vietnam, particularly in the countryside, where even in the midst of war the village girls somehow manage to keep a white silk dress clean and pressed. In Saigon, too, a girl in a miniskirt can be seen sometimes walking beside her elder sister wearing the traditional garment.

The teenyboppers sometimes have to bear the ribaldry of Vietnamese soldiers on leave. "Chiu choi?" they will shout at the girls. "Are you ready to play?" The girls, with a toss of their sometimes thigh length hair, flounce by.

Saigon newspapers have been taking notice of the miniskirted girls and attribute the fashion to French fashion magazines available on the local market.

One newspaper said: "They are our hippies, wearing dog chains, pensive before their black coffee cups, wreathed in the sheath of lassitude that marijuana smoking brings."

The traditional attitude to romance still survives. Daddy expects her home before curfew, and she is.

Woman Hurt In Five-Car Collision

A San Jose woman suffered a cut and a torn ligament in her left ankle in a five-car collision Saturday on Highway 101, 300 feet south of the San Rafael overpass, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Injured was Louise Lish, 41, a passenger in a car driven by Irwin H. Lish, 43, which was stopped for traffic and was struck from behind by a car driven by Arnold E. Haksins, 68, of Mill brae, officer reported.

Mrs. Lish was treated at Kaiser Hospital, San Rafael, officers reported. Gary Lish, 13, also a passenger, suffered a bump on his forehead.

Officers said the car driven by Jack W. Baken, 63, of 308 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, stopped at 10:55 a.m. for traffic ahead, and Richard Roy Stewart, 25, of 31 Reed Boulevard, stopped and then Lish stopped.

Then Haskins car struck the rear of Lish's car causing chain collisions forward, officers said. A fifth car driven by William H. Heidel, 46, of San Jose, then struck the rear of Haskins car, the CHP reported. The accident occurred at 10:55 a.m.

$200,000 Fire Destroys Nine Trash Trucks; Pair Is Sought

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police sought two men today in a $200,000 fire that destroyed or damaged nine trash trucks at a disposal firm involved in disputes with labor and competitors.

The fire swept through the vehicles at the 1.5-acre Fleet Disposal, Inc., yesterday. Fire officials said gasoline from punctured fuel tanks was ignited.

One of the men, who police said are being hunted on suspicion of arson and assault with a deadly weapon, allegedly threatened an employee with a gun before the blaze broke out, officers said.

They said driver Ruel O. Grundy, 37, arrived at the plant gate half an hour early for work yesterday. One of the men accosted him at the deserted area, brandishing a .38-caliber pistol, Grundy said, while the other man sat in a nearby parked car.

When asked where he was headed, Grundy said he told them he was going to work. The man with the gun allegedly replied: "Oh no you're not. Get out of here and start running."

Grundy said he ran to a nearby paper plant and as he was calling the police, flames roared up in the disposal firm.

Police and fire officials said the reason for the arson was not known. But the firm's executive vice president linked it to recent pressure from competitors regarding bidding procedures for obtaining clients.

James E. O'Connor said the competitors were attempting to get his firm to join them in circumventing standard bidding procedures, which he said were a sham. He contended clients are obtained through agreement in the trash disposal industry.

"The main problem is that we openly compete for business and that is not normally tolerated in this business," O'Connor said. He refused to name his competitors.

O'Connor also said the Teamsters Union is attempting to organize the company's 30 employees and has been picketing some of the firm's clients and has filed unfair labor practice claims with the National Labor Relations Board as part of its campaign.

Union and competition spokesmen were not available for comment.

Annual Barbecue To Be On Sunday

The 13th annual Mill Valley Lions club chicken barbecue will be held Sunday in Boyle Park, not last Sunday as reported in the Independent-Journal on Saturday. The barbecue will begin at noon.

Chicken dinners with all the trimmings will be served as long as they last, according to Roy Carlson, barbecue chairman. A variety of games, including a dunk tank and coin toss, will highlight the afternoon.

Proceeds will finance the club's youth and civic projects, Carlson said.

Health Aide Course To Begin Sept. 30

A new training course for home health aides, nurses' aides and physical therapy aides will begin Sept. 30 at the College of Marin, announced Joseph E. Berruezo, director of vocational and technical education.

The course qualifies students for employment after eight weeks of six hours per day instruction and training, he said. Applications may be obtained at Room 2 of Harlan Hall on the Kentfield campus.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

The Marriage License Rules

In California a couple wishing to marry must first take medical examinations to see if either one has a contagious venereal disease. The medical certificate cannot be more than thirty days old when the couple applies for the license. Otherwise no county clerk can issue a marriage license.

Formerly you had to marry in the same county that issued the license. But no longer. You may marry in any county in the state.

The clerk may not issue the license where one or both applicants are under the influence of liquor or drugs, or where they seem not to know what they are doing.

In California there are no racial restrictions on licenses, nor may the county clerk refer to race on the license application.

The license calls for certain facts. The dates of the two persons' births, full names, birthplaces, mothers' maiden name, previous marriages, etc.

The person performing the cermony later signs and files a certificate with the county recorder within four days after the ceremony.

However, should he fail to do so correctly, the marriage is still valid.

In certain rare cases marriages are upheld even though they fail to conform to the requirements of California law.

California itself does not recognize common-law marriages made in this state. But suppose the couple were married, say, in a state which allows common-law marriages.

Then California would recognize such a common-law marriage as valid, because it was valid when contracted.

Sometimes, in order to prevent injustice, the courts will regard parties as married when in fact they are not. For example, a man and woman were "married" before a Mexican official and came home to California.

Here they lived for years before the man died. He left some land which a precious wife promptly claimed. It turned out that the marrying official was not actually permitted under Mexican law to perform a marriage ceremony. Not knowing this, the "widow" in good faith regarded her marriage as valid. The court held that she was a "putative" wife and entitled to the property.

To be a putative wife or husband there must have been a bona fide belief in the marriage's validity, and a subsequent living together. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

low-keyed campaign by publishing declarations of support for the Ceausescu regime from party organizations, workers, collective peasants and intellectuals.

A group of 60 intellectuals from the ethnic German region of northern Transylvania pledged loyalty to the Bucharest leadership and echoed the government's demand for speedy withdrawal of occupation troops from Czechoslovakia.

It appeared to be an uneasy truce, however. Reliable informants said the armed forces were being kept in a state of semialert. Patriotic guards, the workers and peasants militia reactivated last week, continued to hold daily weapons drills in factories and on collective farms.

The population, knowing that the government does not keep them fully informed, remained susceptible to all kinds of rumors.

One rumor said the Kremlin, while having shelved invasion plans, may still decide to demand Warsaw Pact maneuvers in Romania.

LAW

intense pressure is being brought to bear on the drivers of multi-colored cars by the drivers of the black and white ones.

For example, two persons were arrested in Belvedere last Tuesday on suspicion of possessing marijuana. One was released without charges the next day. The reason given for the investigation: Their car was parked in a residential area and "seemed out of place in Belvedere," according to the police chief, William S. Woodington.

Marin County Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner agrees that police often pull over brightly-colored cars because of their color, but expressed support for the liberal arrest tactic.

Guessing that there are some 20,000 marijuana users in Marin, arrests with no court disposition give judges a clue to the person's past if he is ever brought before superior court for trial. "I give the person the benefit of the doubt on the first occasion," he said, "but the objective is to straighten the person out."

He continued: "Kids think the individual offense must stand on its own. It doesn't. The record is important in rendering a decision."

Goldstein, however, looks at improper arrests another way. "Considerable harm has already been done. The defendant has received an arrest record and may well have spent time in jail. Any denial of liberty is significant and the courts zealously guard the rights of citizens to remain at liberty unless the processes of law require their confinement.

"Good law enforcement requires a proper respect for the rights of citizens," he continued, "regardless of race, creed, color or station of life. Nothing engenders disrespect for law faster than unfounded arrest or police harassment."

day, said the central committee also voted to:

Support the party leaders who negotiated the agreement in Moscow accepting the Soviet occupation and reimposing press censorship while allowing the liberals to remain in office.

Restate Czechoslovak allegiance to the Warsaw Pact and repudiate the idea of neutrality.

Indefinitely postpone the party congress that had been scheduled Sept. 9 to purge orthodox, conservative Communists still in office.

Informed sources said three weekly newspapers active in the liberalization drive would not be permitted to resume publication. They are Literarni Listy, the writers' association paper; a student mazagine, and the news magazine Reporter. The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda called Sunday for the "liquidation" of Literarni Listy.

Virtually all anti-Soviet signs and slogans were gone from walls. Radio broadcasts indicated compliance with new instructions not to call the Soviet troops "occupiers."

Announcers spoke increasingly of "events" rather than the "invasion" and "foreign" rather than "occupation" troops.

"Soon it will be 'allied troops' and then 'fraternal troops'," one Czech commented bitterly.

against time to avert famine, epidemics and drought.

Rescue workers tearing through some of the worst-hit regions of the 1,300-square-mile disaster zone in northeastern Iran said they had recovered more than 20,000 bodies by late yesterday.

Government officials in Tehran confirmed the reports but officially announced a death figure of 12,000—the number already buried.

Disease from unburied corpses and the brutally cold nights both threatened injured survivors. Officials feared many sheltered only by flimsy tents might freeze.

Frightened survivors refused to take refuge in the few structures still standing after the weekend's two massive quakes and yesterday's lighter tremblors.

Extra food, blankets, clothing, medical assistance and disinfectants were rushed in under the personal directon of the Shah of Iran. A rescue airlift pilot said the region appeared "hit by an atom bomb." Other pilots reported "huge graveyards" of disintegrated villages with no sign of life.

Copenhagen Vetoes U.S. Rockets Plan

COPENHAGEN (GF) — Cucumber Time, as the Danes call the Silly Season, has been greatly enlivened by the Danish government's decision to veto the firing of a batch of U.S. sounding rockets from Thule, Greenland. The press has had a merry time chastizing Foreign Minister Poul Hartling, a theologian by training, for his handling of this celestial (or at least ionospheric) affair.

The American plan was to send up 42 rockets (or 36, or 27, depending upon whom you ask) from Thule to investigate the amount and behavior of solar protons in the atmosphere, as the sun enters the most active period in its 11-year cycle.

The U.S. applied last Nov. 21 for permission to launch from Thule (pronounced tooly), since it is only about 600 miles from the North Magnetic Pole, where earth's magnetic field dips close to the surface and brings the solar protons with it. The scientists, including the Danes, who had six experiments planned for the program, expected the request to be approved as a matter of routine.

Every person and group advising the Danish Government got cold feet. It claimed that the firings contained "an element of risk for air traffic, ocean traffic and for the local population." Foreign Minister Hartling also declared that "the time set for the rocket firings is marked by busy Greenland hunting activity, and to fence off certain areas might carry economic consequences for the population."

The main difficulty, however, was that Hartling describes as "psychological considerations," namely the memory of the crash of an H-bomb-carrying plane near Thule in January, and subsequent rumors — which Hartling admits are incorrect — of U.S. chemical and biological warfare testing in the area.

U.S. scientists were dismayed; the Danes were aghast. "The international cooperation which is the base of Danish space research has suffered a defeat," commented Peter Stauning of the Danish Ionosphere Laboratory.

American scientists have always done their utmost to help the Danes, he said, and the government's decision would force Danish scientists to seek future U.S. participation "with deep shame at this one-sided form of cooperation."

In the U.S., however, some officials maintain that the "psychological considerations" are valid. Two spokesmen for the U.S. Air Force, which would have conducted the rocket experiments, agreed that the bad publicity from carrying out the flights might have outweighed the scientific gain.

The Danish Foreign Ministry has suggested that the U.S. apply again next year, presumably when the publicity climate has cooled down. But the Air Force has other plans.

If the flight program does take place next year, it will be in one of two places, neither of them Danish territory. The leading candidate is the Churchill Research Range in northern Canada, from which the Canadian National Research Council and the U.S. space agency already launch many sounding rockets every year. The other possibility is Point Barrow, Alaska, the northernmost place in the United States.

Nevertheless, it would still be nice to launch from Thule From there, particles could be monitored almost as soon as they arrive from the sun, before they get caught up in earth's magnetic lines of force, which extend from pole to pole.

In addition, facilities already existing at the U.S. Air Force base at Thule would make preparations and supply easier than they would be at other sites.

Eating Lead Can Damage The Brain

BOSTON (SS) — Up to 16,000 cases of lead poisoning occur in the United States each year, and an average of 200 die, but no one knows how many thousands of young children are still eating chips of paint with lead in it and suffering brain damage.

Two new tests are reported in the Medical World News that are expected to help in those hard-to-detect cases that do not show extreme symptoms of coma and convulsions. The number of cases without acute symptoms — some with no symptoms at all — is estimated as 25 times higher than the easily identifiable cases.

Blood tests now in use are expensive and time consuming, samples are hard to collect and the tests are ineffective if the lead has left the bloodstream and settled in the bones, as it does a few days after it enters the body.

One of the new methods for routine tests of youngsters in susceptible slum areas is now being tested in Boston: it looks for lead in hair samples.

Dr. Harry Schwachman and Louis Kopito of Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston analyze the carefully measured and weighed hair, wash it and dissolve it in nitric and perchloric acids. In solution, about 10 analyses an hour are run.

High concentrations of lead are the signal for doctors to visit a child's home to make further tests and arrange for a hospital check-up. They discovered about 10 cases in July.

The other screening technique, developed in Chicago by Dr. Joseph R. Davis of Loyola University's Stritch School of Medicine is already commercially available. The Bio-Rad Laboratories at Richmond assisted in simplifying the technique.

It involves a urinary test for ALA, delta-aminolevulinic acid, a chemical that accumulates in the urine in levels 10 to 15 times above normal when the body is poisoned with lead. ALA is found to remain at its high level for a year, even when the lead is absorbed into the bones.

$200 Fines Given On Stolen Property

A Novato woman and her Petaluma companion were fined $200 apiece and placed on probation for two years today on charges of receiving stolen property stemming from the theft of $800 worth of furniture from a model home in Petaluma.

Dorothy Martin, 31, Novato and LouAnne Kaczmarek, 32, both had pleaded guilty in Sonoma Superior Court. They were arrested July 15 after Petaluma Police received a report that two women were transporting furniture from a model home to the Kaczmarek home.

States To Get Anti-Riot Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly $4 million in federal funds, earmarked for riot control or prevention, will be distributed among 40 states, the Justice Department announced today.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said the funds, available under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, will pay up to three-fourths of the cost of a wide range of projects aimed at controlling civil disorders in many of the nation's cities.

The funds are specifically earmarked for "programs and projects dealing with the prevention, detection and control of riots and other civil disorders" and were requested by the individual states in mid-August.

Subways Running Despite Threat

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rush hour service on New York City's subway system was reported normal today despite a threatened "rule book" slowdown by supervisors that could create chaotic conditions for the system's 4.5 million daily riders.

The transit authority reported at the midway point of the morning rush hour that the subways were experiencing "no trouble at all."

OBITUARIES

Pauline Borges Dies At 78

Funeral will be held tomorrow at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, for Pauline Berry Borges, who was active in Marin County music and lodge circles for many years before moving to Santa Barbara, where she died Saturday at the age of 78.

She and her husband, Frank M. Borges, came to Marin originally in 1915. She played piano and violin, both of which she taught in the county. She had at one time been a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and had toured Europe.

A native of New Hampshire, Mrs. Borges held numerous offices in Marin County organizations. She was a matron of Mill Valley Chapter 219, Order of the Eastern Star in 1942; noble grand of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305, Mill Valley in 1946; a charter member and first royal matron, Order of Amaranth of Marin County; past president of San Rafael High School Parent-Teacher Association and a member of Makattom Temple, Daughters of the Nile.

Friends recalled that during the 1940s, the family operated a ranch in Tennessee Valley, and that Mrs. Borges used to deliver milk during World War II.

Mrs. Borges is survived by her husband.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m., with interment at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

extra cost involved if the project is revised.

On a motion by Supervisor Peter H. Behr, supervisors also asked the Corte Madera Flood Control advisory board to reconsider last Friday's action, in which the board declared itself opposed to the flood control zone putting up any of the extra money.

A delegation of residents from Kent Woodlands, headed by attorney Roger Kent, appeared before supervisors this morning to oppose the Tamalpais Creek channel as only a partial solution to the flood control problem in Kent Woodlands. They contended that the critical problem is along Woodland Avenue and this should get priority attention.

MARY DURKEE

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Mary E. Durkee, 45, were pending today at M. Gray Funeral Home, San Francisco. She died Sunday at her home on Upper Terrace Road, Bolinas.

The Marin County coroner's office reported Mrs. Durkee's body was found in bed by her son, Cutler, at about 11 a.m. Sunday.

An autopsy was performed, but results will not be known until pathological tests are completed.

Cutler Durkee told coroner's office that his mother had gone to bed about 11 p.m. Saturday and that he had noticed a light on in her room about 1 a.m. Sunday. Since she was a late sleeper, he did not attempt to disturb her until late Sunday morning, when he found the body.

SOPHIE WOLFSON

Funeral was held Saturday for Mrs. Sophie B. Wolfson, 70, mother of San Rafael attorney William B. Wolfson, who died last Thursday at her home in Sonoma.

A native of Pennsylvania, she had lived in Sonoma the past eight years.

Private services were held at the Chapel of the Chimes in Santa Rosa under the direction of Bates, Evans and Fehrensen Mortuary.

EMILY SMITH

Funeral for Emily J. Smith of Denver, Colo., former Mill Valley resident, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Episcopal Church of Our Savior, Old Mill and Lovell avenues, Mill Valley. Entombment will be at the Cypress Lawn Cemetery in Colma.

Mrs. Smith died Friday in a Denver hospital following a short illness.

She and her husband, the late Roland Smith, lived in Mill Valley during the 1940s. She was an active member of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour until she moved to Denver in 1950.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Charlotte K. Bennett of Denver.

LEWIS CORBETT

The death last month of Lewis Ellsworth Corbett, a former resident of Marin County, has been reported to the Independent-Journal by his wife, Clarice.

Corbett, 68, died Aug. 4 in a hospital in Las Vegas where he had lived since moving from Marin in 1962.

He was a teacher at San Quentin Prison for four years and at Hamilton Air Force Base for one year. He also taught several classes in College of Marin adult school of which his wife was secretary for 11 years.

Corbett was also in the insurance and real estate business in Corte Madera and Kentfield. The couple lived in Mill Valley and Corte Madera, moving here from Michigan.

Survivors are his wife; a daughter, Fredda Jane Corbett also of Las Vegas; and a brother, Doane Corbett, Ann Arbor, Mich.

MYRTLE WILLIAMS

Private funeral for Mrs. Myrtle Williams, 86, of 400 Manzanita Avenue, Corte Madera, who died in her sleep Sunday, will be at 8 p.m. today at Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo. Interment will be at Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

She had a history of heart illness.

Mrs. Williams, whose grandparents came to San Francisco in the 1850s, was born in Mott, in the Mother Lode country, later lived in San Francisco and for the last 20 years was a resident of Marin County.

She is survived by a son, Fred Hafer of Corte Madera, and three grandchildren, Heidi, Diane and Scott Hafer.

ESTHER HAIL

Private funeral for Esther Pirenian Hail was held Friday in San Francisco. Interment was at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Mrs. Hail, 57, of 242 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, died Wednesday at the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco, after a brief illness.

Born in Izmit, Turkey, she came to this area as a child. Head nurse of the Ear, Nose and Throat Clinic at the University of California Medical Center, she was a member of the Central Seventh-Day Adventist Church, San Francisco.

She is survived by her husband, Leonard K. Hail, a San Francisco insurance company employee. Also surviving is a son, Leonard K. Hail II, Kentfield, and a daughter, Mrs. Marcia H. Cutter, Kern County.

VICTORY OR NOT?

MIT's Electric Car Gets Finishing Tow

PASADENA (AP)—The cross-country Great Electric Car Race is over—maybe.

Even the computers of those arch-rivals of the scientific and road racing worlds, MIT and Cal Tech, don't know. And the human judges want time to decide.

It's this way . . .

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology electric car completed the 3,000-mile journey yesterday, but there was a hitch—to the car in front pulling it.

The brutal scientific truth: a gasoline powered car towed the ailing MIT entry across the finish line.

Race officials, pioneers like everyone else in cross-country electric car racing, debated the legality today. A ruling wasn't expected soon.

California Institute of Technology's vehicle, meanwhile, sped at full battery power somewhere in Ohio toward its Cambridge, Mass., goal. Estimated arrival time: sometime tomorrow.

"There are certain penalties for towing, so there's a chance we'll win," said Wally Rippel, 23, part of the Cal Tech crew zooming along the Ohio Turnpike at speeds up to 50 miles per hour.

"MIT has been towed several times during the race and we've never been towed," Rippel said proudly.

Undaunted, MIT held what it described as a victory celebration last night in Pasadena.

"We proved an electric car can go from coast to coast," declared Leon S. Loeb, 20, MIT's crew coordinator, a junior mechanical engineering student from Corpus Christi, Tex.

MIT arrived at Pasadena one week and six hours after leaving Cambridge. Once, it hoped to make it in 3 and one-half days.

"We really didn't set a schedule," Loeb asserted, however, "and we realize now that 3½ days was unrealistic."

Nat Wood, a judge, said MIT would be docked five minutes per mile for the final 150 miles it was towed after a motor armature blew out. He said MIT still could win if Cal Tech didn't hurry.

The intent of the race, said another judge, was "that the car complete the race under its own power." But, he said there was nothing in the rules against it.

MIT's entry was a converted Chevrolet Corvair powered by a $20,000 experimental nickel-cadmium battery. Cal Tech's is a converted 1958 Volkswagon microbus with cheaper $600 lead-cobalt batteries.

Once Cal Tech's car was stranded in Arizona while a new electric motor was flown from New York. Once MIT burned out a transformer.

Probation Ended On Morals Charge

Probation for Thomas Frederick Spang, 47, of San Francisco was revoked Friday in Marin Superior Court and Spang was ordered to serve a previously suspended prison term.

Spang was sentenced to prison in April, 1966, for committing homosexual acts with a 13-year-old boy, but was placed on probation. He was arrested again in May this year on charges he committed homosexual acts in Kentfield in February.

Vandalism To Car Wash Is Reported

Vandalism at the Canal Car Wash, 65 Vivian Way, San Rafael, was reported by police today.

The vandals damaged pipes by ramming them with an auto, squirted soft drink into a coin changer, making it inoperable, and used a key to remove 24 paper towels and four quarters from a dispensing machine sometime between 10 a.m. Sunday and 8 a.m. yesterday, police said.

Man Shoots Self In Hand

A San Rafael restaurant owner was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today after accidentally shooting himself in the left hand while cleaning his gun last night.

Police said they were not permitted to interview Paul Devaux, 40, of 539 Thyme Drive, San Rafael, owner of La Petite Auberge, 704 Fourth Street, when notified by the hospital that he had been admitted at 7 p.m. yesterday after suffering the wound.

Police were to interview him later today to determine how the accident occurred and what type of gun was involved.

Rafferty Is Allied With Violence, Says Cranston In Tiburon Visit

Democrat Alan Cranston, campaigning today in Tiburon for the U.S. Senate, said his opponent, Republican Max Rafferty, is the spokesman for a "politics of violence."

Cranston said his campaign will be bi-partisan and oriented toward those "who seek reasonable and responsible approaches to . . . peace and security at home and abroad."

He said he supports an immediate, unconditional end to the American bombing of North Vietnam and advocated swift and sure administration of justice — backed by humane laws — at home.

Cranston formally opened his campaign yesterday with a stinging attack on Rafferty, accusing him of running a "smear campaign."

"In less troubled times, Max Rafferty and his politics of violence might be tolerated as a quaint souvenir from an earlier age when problems were solved at high noon in a western shootout," Cranston said.

He said he has support from a number of backers of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, Rafferty's primary election opponent. "Rafferty lied about Senator Kuchel. He distorted his record and smeared an honorable and decent man," Cranston said.

He complained that Rafferty had already begun a "smear" campaign against him, with advertisements Monday which would "lead incautious readers to assume I'm a Communist or a Communist sympathizer."

Cranston said he also counts on bringing under his banner supporters of the major Democratic presidential contenders — the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota and the winner, Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

He said he will support Humphrey for president, "but." The big "but," he explained, is disagreement over Vietnam.

Cranston refused to accept Rafferty's invitation for a statewide television debate. "I will not debate with any man who has no regard for the truth," he said.

Rafferty rode the Tiburon ferry to San Francisco with a crowd of commuters this morning, as one stop in a four-day campaign tour of northern California.

Driver Reports Battle To Police

A Novato man told San Rafael police he was assaulted at 4:15 p.m. Sunday by a motorist with whom he had been arguing.

James E. Smith, 754 Plaza Hermosa, said the argument occurred after the motorist pulled in front of him, forcing him to slam on the brakes. He said he and his assailant stopped at Second Street and Miramar Avenue, got out of their cars and argued.

As he turned his back to leave, Smith said, he was punched on the back of the head. The scuffle that followed was broken up by an inidentified passerby, he said.

Couple Injured When Car Hits Pole

Two Novato residents were injured Sunday when their car drifted off the roadway, hit a pole and went over the embankment at the intersection of Highways 121 and 37, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Melvin Grant Call, 1531 Buchanan Street, the driver, and his wife, Phyliss, were taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital, where she was reported in satisfactory condition today with a broken collarbone and broken left rib. Call was treated for facial bruises.

SEPT.-3

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 3, the 247th day of 1968 with 119 to follow.

The moon is between the first quarter and its full phase. The mornings star is Mars. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1783 the American Revolutionary War ended officially with the signing of a peace treaty in Paris.

In 1925 the U.S. naval dirigible "Shenandoah", on a trip from Lakehurst N.H., to St. Paul, Minn., was torn to pieces in a storm over Ava, Ohio, killing 14 crewmen.

In 1939 Great Britain declared war on Germany.

In 1943 the allies invaded Italy in World War II.

A thought for the day: British writer, Norman Douglas, once said, "Many a man who thinks to found a home discovered that he merely opened a tavern for his friends."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Opening lead — ♡ J

DOWN ONE

South won the first trick with the ace of hearts, led a trump to dummy and laughed as he discarded his losing club on the king of hearts. He then discarded a diamond on the queen of hearts and led dummy's singleton diamond.

East stepped up with the king of diamonds and led the queen of trumps to South's ace. South could ruff only one diamond in dummy and therefore had to give up two more diamond tricks. He lost three diamonds and a trump. Down one.

It was West's turn to laugh. "Good thing I didn't open clubs," he observed. "Our only chance was to tempt you to discard your singleton club."

SHOULD LEAD DIAMOND

West was quite right. South should lead a low diamond from his hand at the second trick, making no attempt to get rid of his losing club.

East takes the jack of diamonds and a club and then returns the queen of spades to dummy's king. South discards two diamonds on the king and queen of hearts, ruffs a club, ruffs a diamond in a dummy and then continues the process by ruffing another club in his hand and his last diamond in the dummy.

THEN RUFFS

Since South discards two diamonds and ruffs two in the dummy he gives up only one diamond trick in addition to one club and one trump. He makes his contract instead of going down one.

Written Consent Needed For Shots

Children participating in the special measles clinic at the Marin County Health Department tomorrow through Friday must present written consent of their parents or legal guardians, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, announced.

The shots will be given from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at the health department, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael. All other clinic services will be suspended at noon tomorrow through Friday, Dr. Albrecht said.

Let Mechanic Fix Carburetor

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Do-it-yourselfers, beware—especially if you're thinking about adjusting the carburetor idle speed on your 1968 automobile. It's likely to cost you more money than you think you can save.

Idling adjustment, once a relatively simple procedure, now is a delicate operation, according to experts at ACF's Carter Carburetor division. The new anti-smog carburetor, an integral part of the 1968 car's emission control system now required by law, has been precisely calibrated and permanently set at the factory. From that point on it should be adjusted only by a qualified mechanic.

Parents Protest School Bus Cuts

UKIAH (AP) — Parents in three rural areas north of Ukiah say they will send their children to school only one day a week because there aren't enough buses.

The school board reduced transportation in Redwood, Potter and Calpella valleys from 26 to five buses. The savings was applied to higher salaries for teachers, the parents said.

At a meeting in the Grange Hall at Redwood Valley last night some parents said they would rather go to jail than allow youngsters to walk along "dangerous roads."

Companies Give Up Plans For Merger

CHICAGO (BW) — Ozite Corp., Chicago, and Berven Carpets Corp., San Francisco and Fresno, announced jointly that merger negotiations have been terminated by mutual agreement.

The two companies had previously announced an agreement in principle under which Ozite would acquire Berven for an exchange of Ozite common stock.

Snipers Fire At Police In Hunters Point Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Snipers fired at policemen—from long distances and without coming close with their shots—in two incidents early today in the Hunters Point district.

Officers George Steil, 37, and William Harlan, 26, of the housing authority police force said about 40 shots wre fired in short bursts as they walked from an authority substation.

The policemen said the shots came from a rooftop 250 to 300 yards away and struck about 50 feet short of them. They scrambled behind the building, then called for aid. Police swarmed into the area, but found nothing.

Steil also came under fire Friday when five carloads of Negro youths shot at the substation. None of the three men inside the office was hit.

In today's other incident, Sgt. Edward M. McDonough reported he was standing under a street light when he heard seven shots fired from a housing project. He thought they were aimed at him, but none came close. The shots were fired about a half-hour before the substation incident and about a mile away.

Neighbors Stop Theft Suspect

A 15-year-old Terra Linda boy was in Juvenile Hall today after neighbors caught him Sunday breaking into the house of Gregory Danelz of 533 Wake Robin Drive, Terra Linda, sheriff's deputies said.

Neighbors, drawn to the scene by the sound of someone prying at a door of the house, cornered the boy and found in his possession a silver spoon belonging to Danelz.

Sheriff's officers also reported that someone pried open a door of Angelo Coleiro's home at 422 Hibuscus Street Terra Linda, sometime Sunday and stole $7.

Company To Get $40 Million Loan

HOUSTON (BW) — Robert H. Allen, president of Gulf Resources and Chemical Corp., has announced the signing of a $40 million loan agreement for the Houston-based mining and chemical firm.

The unsecured loan, proceeds of which will be used to repay $36,705,000 of existing debt of the parent company and to provide general corporate funds, was negotiated with a group of major U. S. Banks.

Store Safe Is Cut Open, Cash Stolen

What may have been a professional gang cut open the safe in the Safeway store at the Novato Fair Shopping Center, while the store was closed during Labor Day, and took an undisclosed amount of money, police reported.

Philip W. Richards of Petaluma, day manager of the store, discovered the burglary when he opened up at 5:15 a.m. today, police reported.

Detective Sgt. Otto Haiungs said that apparently someone had stayed inside the store when it was closed at 7:45 p.m. Sunday as there was no sign of forced entry. The roof hatch had been opened from the inside, he said. Alarm wires were cut.

Apparently oxygen and acetylene tanks for torches used on the safe had been brought in through the hatch, Haiungs said.

The burglars took only money and left the checks and money orders, Haiungs reported.

Police were unable to find any fingerprints and the entire operation seemed to be the work of practiced professionals, Haiungs said.

The store was the victim of another safe job on Nov. 28, 1965, when $12,600 was taken, according to police reports. That was later cleared up with the arrest of the Leatherwood gang in Los Angeles, Haiungs said.

Two Injured In Collision

George F. Crispo, 26, of 119 South Street, Sausalito, and his passenger Dana Fratello of La Mirada, Los Angeles County, were injured in a motorcycle-car accident at Second and Main streets, Sausalito, on Sunday.

Both were treated at Marin General Hospital, and released, Crispo for a lacerated right thigh, his passenger on the motorcycle for cuts on the right leg and cheek.

The driver of the car, Elizabeth E. Sirotta of 90 Harrison Street, Sausalito, was uninjured.

Crispo was cited by Sausalito police for passing a vehicle while traveling in an intersection resulting in an accident.

Circus Still Great Show Under A Roof

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

OAKLAND — Visiting the ultramodern Oakland Coliseum last night broght back memories of childhood.

While blue upholstered seats had replaced a towering grandstand perch and the flat dome of the building the many-poled tent, nothing had basically changed in entertainment.

It was still "the greatest show on earth," — the 98th edition of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus.

And it was still an exercise in motion — trying to watch all three arenas for another daredevil feat or a moment of buffoonry by one of the many clowns.

Nothing of the most successful circus ever assembled is second class. All the acts — billed in the program as 30 displays — are executed with split-second timing. And the variety is endless and beautifully costumed.

There's Ugo Garrido, an Italian acrobat, whose hand-and-foot manipulations and 15-foot leap through the air include a terrifying fall through space; the giant Bengal and Siberian tigers, who perform like little kittens under the handling of Charley Baumann and Evy Althoff; and the big elephant act.

Like the many ice shows on the road today, the circus goes for the big spectacle as well. The best of the lot was the aerial ballet in a winter wonderland setting complete with make-believe snow. It featured the Hildalys, high above the center ring in an upside down bicycle-hanging act.

However, the biggest thrill came, as usual, from the aerial artists in high bar somersaulting, hand-to-hand and hand-to-foot catches. These breath-taking feats were performed by the Flying Gaonas and Waynes.

As if all this wasn't enough to put a young viewer in dreamland for a while, the rings also offered dancing llamas, horseback jugglers, cycling capers, pole balancing teams and performing seals and dogs.

Put all this together and it spells entertainment for the entire family — whether a first visit or one spaced by a good number of years — amidst the aroma of sawdust.

Last night was the circus' finale in Oakland. It will move to San Francisco, opening tomorrow at the Cow Palace with daily performances at 4:15 and 8 p.m. through Friday; 2:30 and 8 p.m. on Saturday and 2:30 and 6:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Marijuana Trial Scheduled

Wade George Gibson, 19, of San Francisco, pleaded innocent today in Marin Superior Court to charges that on Feb. 29 in Sausalito he had marijuana and a hypodermic needle and syringe and interfered with a police officer.

Gibson was arraigned Friday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson after being booked Thursday on a bench warrant issued in April after he failed to make three court appearances.

Wilson set trial for the week of Nov. 18 and set bail at $1,000.

Gibson said he had been in custody in San Francisco from April 16 until last week.

Time Given To Find Lawyer In Drug Case

Eloise Bowen Erlin, 23, formerly of Fairfax, charged with possession of heroin and three marijuana charges, was given time today in Marin Superior Court to find a new attorney.

Mrs. Erlin was ordered to appear Sept. 16 with new counsel or to confer with the public defender's office meantime. She and her husband, Darren Guy Erlin, who now live in Hawaii, are charged with possessing heroin, possessing marijuana, possessing marijuana for sale and conspiring to sell marijuana March 23 in Fairfax.

Widow Appointed To College Post

CLAREMONT (AP) — Myrlie Evers, widow of slain civil rights leader Medgar Evers, was appointed today as assistant director of the Center for Educational Opportunity at Claremont Colleges.

The center is sponsoring four projects to help 400 young people with poverty backgrounds get a college education.

Mrs. Evers will work for a salary under the Rev. E. C. Reckard, center director and chaplain of Claremont Colleges. The salary amount was not announced.

Reality Can't Match Glitter Of Television

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Problems of modern youth can be traced partly to long hours spent in front of the television set, a San Francisco State College professor said yesterday.

In a paper prepared for delivery before the American Psychological Association, Professor S. I. Hayakawa said many young persons have "had their imaginative lives, their daydreams and there expectations of the world created by television."

Television commericals, he continued, say that "material possessions are everything: That this headache remedy, this luxurious carpeting, new model car will bring you charm, popularity, sexual fulfillment, domestic tranquility and the envy and respect of your neighbors."

He also declared that "the consumption of all approved national brands does not bring happiness or peace of mind."

"The world makes all sorts of demands the television set never told them about — such as (the necessity for) study, patience, hard work and a long apprenticeship in a trade or profession before you may enjoy what the world has to offer," he said.

"Dissillusioned young people may at this point reject or rebel against the culture and its materialism — not realizing that what they are rejecting is not the culture as such, but merely the culture as depicted by Madison avenue and the networks," he continued.

Still longing for the "pleasant fantasies" they enjoyed in watching television, the professor said, youngsters "turn on in other ways...they espouse the alternative view that they can achieve instant spiritual insight and salvation with LSD."

The professor surmised that many persons 23 years or less have spent 22,000 hours watching television and remarked: "The present generation of young people is the first in history to have grown up in the television age."

Four Hurt As Deer Hits Windshield

Four persons suffered cuts when a deer jumped into the windshield of their car Saturday morning on Lucas Valley Road, east of Mount Lassen Road, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers reported that a car driven by Tanya C. Wegner, 18, of 1326 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley was traveling east when the deer shattered the windshield and was killed.

Tanya Wegner and passengers Donna A. Wegner, 41, of 1326 Idylberry Road, Naomi R. Dixon, 37, and Lori Ann Dixon, 7, of Southern Land, Ore., suffered cuts and were taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for treatment, officers reported. The accident occurred at 11:40 a.m.

Contributions Asked For Park

Members of the Novato Chamber of Commerce are being asked to contribute individually to a $5,000 fund for development of Pioneer Memorial Park.

The chamber turned down a request by the Novato Civic Association for chamber funds because this money is earmarked for promotion and development of the business community, but agreed to solicit its members, according to George A. Barnwell, president.

The $5,000 being sought is in addition to $30,000 budgeted by the Novato ity Council. Five contractors are grading the park as a donation.

Walking Horses Killed In Fire

SPRING HILL, Tenn. (AP) — Twenty-one Tennessee walking horses—all show horses—were destroyed last night in a fire which swept through one of several stables on the farm of trainer Jack Warren.

No estimate of the value of the horses was available. "It will be some time before we know that, and really we don't feel much like talking about it right now. We lost some beautiful horses," Mrs. Warren said.

Her husband was in Shelbyville some 40 miles away at the Tennessee Walking Horse National Celebration when the fire broke out. The world champion Tennessee walking horse will be named this week in the final event of the nine-day show.

Approval Expected On Facility Switches

The Marin Municipal Water District board, at a special meeting at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow, at 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera, is expected to approve plans and call for bids for relocation of water facilities in conjunction with widening of Highway 101.

Bids for enclosure of the Bolinas Grade pump will be received and the board will also consider purchase of equipment for the centralized control system of the district.

Bamboo Specialist

The Redwood Shade Garden Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 13 at Gerstle Park, San Rafael to hear Keith Jongewaard, Marin bamboo gardener, speak.

Island Farming

JAKARTA (UPI)—The water hyacinth, a water-clogging weed, grows so thickly in the Indonesian island of Java that it forms floating islands so stable that farmers grow rice on them.

A Sleepwalking Freeway Tumble

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Donald Craig Elliott, 14, who has been sleepwalking since he was 3, got up from his bunk, looked in the refrigerator, then walked out the door.

It would have been a normal occurrence except Craig was in a camper-pickup truck traveling 50 miles an hour on the San Diego Freeway.

An examination at General Hospital early yesterday showed the teen-ager suffered only cuts and bruises, to the relief of his mother, Mrs. Wanda Elliott of Costa Mesa.

A California Highway Patrol car was about 400 feet behind the camper when Craig walked out the door. The driver saw the boy fall, stopped and pulled him into the car.

Motorcycle Stolen

Ray Vernon Bosnich reported to San Rafael police he discovered his locked motorcycle had been stolen from his residence at 400 Canal Street, San Rafael, when he returned home yesterday at 2:30 a.m.

Driver Injured Changing Lanes

A 55-year-old San Rafael woman was injured Seunday when her car was struck by another automobile when she changed lanes on the Waldo Grade, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Elsie Beatrice O'Connell of 121 C Street was treated at Marin General Hospital for bumps and scrapes.

She was cited for unsafe turning.

Driver of the other car, Carolyn Saunders Hunter, 31, of 17 Windward Drive, Corte Madera, was not injured.

Vandals Leave Mess In Church

Vandals ransacked the Lucas Valley Community Church, American Baptist, 2000 Las Gallinas Road, Friday evening tearing a Bible in the process, the sheriff's office reported yesterday.

The vandals also scattered hymn books around the church, damaged the communion railing and pulpit, tossed food about the kitchen area, spread glue about the pastor's office and overturned furniture in a child care room, deputies reported.

There was no estimate of the damage, deputies said.

Triple Organ Transplant For Brazil

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A single donor provided a heart, kidneys and a pancreas today to patients in a hospital in Sao Paulo, Brazil, in the second multiple transplant operation in four days.

The first was performed Saturday in Houston, Tex., where the heart, two kidneys and a lung were transplanted from a woman gunshot victim into four persons. The woman's corneas were removed and put in an "eye bank" for possible future use.

IN SAO PAULO

The Sao Paulo transplants were performed at the Hospital das Clinicas by a team headed by Dr. Euryclides de Jesus Zerbini. Last May 26, he performed the first heart transplant in Latin America. His first patient, Joao Ferreira da Cunha, 23, died 27 days later.

Complete details were not immediately available on today's operations. The donor was identified only as a public official who had taken his own life. The recipient of the heart was said to be Joao Batista da Silva.

In addition to the Houston operation, three other persons received transplanted hearts on Saturday. All were reported progressing satisfactorily today.

GOOD CONDITION

Robert O. McKee, 37, an electronics engineer from Palo Alto, was "recovering satisfactorily" in Stanford.

And in Montreal, Elie Zaor shrugged off whe effects of emergency surgery to remove a blood clot yesterday and was reported recovering satisfactorily by doctors.

In Houston, a Methodist Hospital bulletin said William C. Carroll, 50, of Scottsdale, Ariz., a heart recipient; William C. Kaiser, 41, of Odessa, Tex., and Thomas A. Stevenson, 22, of Houston, kidney recipients; and William J. Whaley, 39, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., a lung recipient, continued to progress satisfactorily.

Armed Youths Rob Driver Of Money

Carl Osterlye of 16 Jewell Street, San Rafael, reported to sheriff's deputies Friday that he was robbed of $60 cash by a group of four or five youths in Marin City.

Osterlye was driving along Cole Drive when the youths waved him to a stop, deputies said. They displayed a hand gun and asked for his wallet and, when he produced it, they grabbed it and ran, deputies reported. The robbery was reported at 8:10 p.m.

Clothing Discovered Near Bone Collection

Empty clothing, stiff and looking as if it might have once held a body, was found yesterday just outside Fairfax in a redwood grove, where dogs unearthed a gruesome collection of human bones Sunday, sheriff's deputies said today.

A human skull with a hank of hair, part of a vertebrae and an ear were brought home Sunday by the two collies of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Kerr of 2781 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Deputies, searching for the rest of the body, found stiff clothing that "looked like a body might have been in it and animals dragged it away."

The clothes were 200 yards down a path from the Kerr house, officers said. No more bones were discovered.

Officers were to return to the area today to continue their search with bloodhounds.

Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said he will investigate the possibility that the remains may be those of John Howard Geiger, a 56-year-old Fairfax man missing since late June.

"He talked about going up into a redwood grove and taking his life," reported Fairfax Policeman John Johnson.

However, the last entry about death was about two months before his disappearance, Johnson noted.

Geiger was unemployed and spent much of his time hiking in the woods, Johnson said. His occupation was listed as part-time inventor.

Geiger was single and lived alone in an apartment at 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. His landlady reported him missing. Johnson said he had no idea why the disappearance was not made public.

Does Yellow Fever Pose A Threat?

By SCIENCE SERVICE

GENEVA — Evidence of resurgent yellow fever in East Africa has stimulated a widespread survey of Nganda, Kenya and Somalia to discover the extent of the threat.

Besides the danger of an epidemic in Africa—the last one, in Ethiopia in the early 1960s, claimed an estimated 200,000 lives—health officials are worried about the chance that the disease might spread to India, which is particularly vulnerable.

The evidence discovered by World Health Organization doctors was the presence of yellow fever immunity in blood serum collected from tribes living on the fringe of the Ethiopian epidemic area.

World Health doctors here caution that the evidence is not conclusive—actual yellow fever cases haven't been found. But scientists in the field say the tribes surveyed have never been vaccinated, so the immunity found—antibodies against group B arbovirus — couldn't have come from that. They say it is reasonable to conclude "recent virus activity" in the new regions.

Yellow fever researchers have proved the "forest cycle" of mosquito to monkey infection. Indeed, says World Health vector control director, Dr. James Wright, the crucial problem is to keep the virus from infecting the monkeys, basis of human epidemics.

India has hosts of monkeys—in some areas protected for religious reasons—and also the Aedes egypti mosquito. India, Burma and other Asian governments today are extremely anxious not to be exposed to yellow fever virus.

If there is plenty of yellow fever in East Africa, a man could board an airplane in Nairobi with incubating disease, then get bitten by mosquitoes aboard. These mosquitoes could land in Delhi, and infect monkeys. Or a boatload of Indians returning from Africa could bring the virus.

The disease's reappearance in East Africa after almost 20 years shows the need for much fuller study of the distribution of immunity there, to follow the virus behavior in the next few years, says the international scientific team.

On the team are members of the East African Virus Research Institute in Entibbe, Uganda; the Medical Research Center in Nairobi; the Tropical Disease Center at St. Clare's Hospital, New York and the U.S. Public Health Service.

AWOL Soldier Survives Wound

FRESNO (UPI) — An AWOL soldier who shot himself with a hidden gun while being taken to the Fresno County Jail Sunday, was listed in satisfactory condition at Fresno County Hospital today.

Darrell David Chavarria, 18, Klamath Falls, Ore., was being taken from a patrol car in the basement parking garage at the jail when he pulled a gun from his pants and shot himself in the chest.

It was the second time Chavarria, the object of a three-day manhunt in west Fresno County, had successfully used the hidden gun trick.

Best season for tarpon fishing in Florida is from April to November.

Teen's Wound Is Not Serious

The 18-year-old Ross boy, shot through the shoulder yesterday morning wrestling with a hold-up man in Marin City, was not seriously hurt, Marin General Hospital office reported today. He was released after treatment.

Diller Ryan of Laurel Grove Avenue told sheriff's officers that he and a friend were parked in Marin City when two youths demanded money and waved a gun. Ryan was slightly injured when the .25 automatic fired as he attempted to wrestle it away. He was accompanied by John Osterloh of 22 Southwood Avenue, Ross.

The sheriff's office had no information as to suspects.

THE DE BERRY family is back in Belvedere after summer activities. Mr. and Mrs. Dick De Berry were in Texas for a month, where they visited relatives near Dallas. Their daughter Sue spent two months as a counselor at St. John's Camp at Delafield, Wisc., where she taught tennis and journalism. A journalism major, Sue will attend College of Marin this fall and will be news editor of the school paper.

CRATER LAKE and a cruise on the Columbia River were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. William Fergus and their son, William Jr. of Marin Country Club Estates, who have returned home from a trip to Oregon.

Bilingual Teaching Tried In Puerto Rican New York

By THOMAS CORPORA

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Presta atencion a mi," the teacher says to six-year-old Lucy Rivera. Then, "Pay attention to me," she repeats immediately in English.

THE SCENE is a second-floor classroom at St. Brigid's Roman Catholic school on the Lower East Side of Manhattan, a neighborhood that once was filled with Poles, Ukranians and Jews but during the past few years has become predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican.

Sally Gilhool, a New York City school teacher, is conducting an experimental summer class in bilingual teaching and learning. Her subject is language and she is fluent in English and Spanish. Her pupils are six-year-old Puerto Rican children from the neighborhood.

"Canten," she says. "Sing."

Lucy, in a blue and white striped sailor dress with red anchors at the hem, and her six classmates sing:"Fray Felipe, Fray Felipe, Duerme Tu, Duerme Tu..."

"Ahora Ingles," says Miss Gilhool. "Now English."

The children sing:"Brother John, Brother John, Are you sleeping, Are you sleeping..."

IN ANOTHER ROOM, Leonard Alba, who taught English in Cuban schools until he fled to the United States and an office typing job (he can't qualify as a teacher here), has a group of seven-year-old Puerto Ricans who are learning to play plastic song flutes, and — more important—to talk about what they are learning in two languages.

Across from his classroom, Lucy Blake, a school teacher from White Plains, N.Y., is teaching art to another group of six-year-olds. High on the far wall of the room is a multicolored sign which says: "Me gusta pintar" and "I like to paint."

All three teachers and their 65 six and seven-year-old pupils are part of a six-week, three-hour a day experimental program in bilingual teaching and learning through the humanities—language, art and music. The program is financed by the federal government through New York City's Center for Urban Education, one of 20 educational laboratories set up across the country by the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

THE PURPOSE of the program, said Raymond A. Drescher, a New York school principal on leave to the Center, is to try to use the humanities to develop fluency in both Spanish and English.

He notes that of the estimated 700,000 Spanish speakers in New York, many are illiterate, or barely literate in both languages. This holds true as well, he said, for many of the Mexican-American of California, Texas and the Southwest.

"WHEN PEOPLE TALK bilingualism," Drescher says, "They usually don't mean bilingualism. They mean, 'you may not speak Spanish, you must learn English'."

He says that when children speak one language at home and another in school often they can become distressed and emotionally and functionally reject one of them. This can impair a child's ability to learn.

"A child who picks up the idea in school that Spanish is bad goes home and hears his parents speaking Spanish and concludes they're bad and then that he himself is bad," Drescher said.

"IF A KID FEELS he's at the bottom of the barrel," he'll remain there.

Art, music and language were chosen as the vehicles for developing fluency in both languages because at the six and seven-year-old levels these subjects are mostly fun and have a high appeal for children.

Nobody in the program believes that "we can change the world in a six-week experiment," but they hope at least to start building a bridge to the Puerto Rican community, one of those "disadvantaged" groups in the new language of sociologists.

Nuptials In Seattle

St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Seattle was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Rosalind Marie Wendt and Francis Xavier Burch Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivar Wendt of Seattle, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Xavier Burch of Corte Madera.

The bride's sister, Mary Elizabeth Wendt, was maid of honor. Another sister, Christina Wendt, and Suzanne Evans were bridesmaids.

Dan Hayes was best man, and ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Ben Burch; the bride's brother, John Wendt; and Paul Frandsen.

Francis received a bachelor's degree from the University of San Francisco and a master's degree from Washington State University. He will attend the University of Utah Medical School in the fall.

Rosalind attended USF and Washington State and will be a senior at the University of Utah.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left on a wedding trip to Canada. They will live in Salt Lake City.

Marinite Travels To Korea To Visit Sponsored Child

By GRACE HENDERSON

The world through little eyes has always been considered a strange and fascinating place but what it is like to Amerasian children only they can know. To alleviate their problems, many people in the United States have undertaken to support these children living in Asian countries. Their parents are American and Asian, and usually they are children of American servicemen. They do not look like their brothers and sisters and their problems are based on their differences.

KUEN HEUI HONG of Seoul, Korea, is looking forward to his second Christmas of receiving help from Creative Thinking, a San Francisco group led by Mrs. Muriel Alstrom. Kuen Heui is an Amerasian, born of an Asian mother and American father. His future is brighter than some because of help from America.

Kuen Heui Hong (pronounced Koon Hee Hong) is such a child. He is taller than the average Korean; is the sixth highest student scholastically in a public school near his home in Seoul; and excels in art. He would like to come to America some day, and so he plans to study English.

Kuen Heui's home is a house with a small room, no furniture, and a little side room used as a kitchen. Their water is drawn from a well by rope and bucket. He has several brothers and sisters, both older and younger.

Sponsor of the nine-year-old is Creative Thinking, a philosophical group headquartered in San Francisco and led by Mrs. Muriel Hively Alstrom of Fairfax. Mrs. Alstrom recently returned from the Orient where she visited the young lad in his home after visiting the Pearl S. Buck Foundation. It was through this group that Kuen Heui was selected for their sponsorship. The title of its project is Adopt-A-Child and it was organized to assist children born out of wedlock in Okinawa, Korea and Vietnam who are sons and daughters of American fathers.

Pearl S. Buck founded the organization after seeing a child of mixed parentage. Of her experience she wrote, "Oh, but I remember the first one I saw! In a narrow side street in Seoul a beggar child ran up to me, his thin little body clad in rags, his dusty hair touseled. Growing up in Asia, I am used to child beggars and I took a coin from my purse to drop into the small, filthy hand.

"Then, looking down, I saw a face not Asian. The eyes were blue American eyes. The hair I thought only tawny with dust, was light brown by nature. Some blond American had been this child's father.

"I gave the coin, I remember, and the child ran away, but I have never forgotten the moment of that recognition. I searched for that child, found hundreds like him and discovered that there were thousands. Fifty thousand in Korea, we are now told by the Korean government, an unknown number in Japan and still greater unknowns in Okinawa! In Vietnam the oldest are already eight and nine years old."

It is for these children that the Pearl S. Buck Foundation was established. Kuen Heui Hong is one of these children.

MRS. MURIEL ALSTROM of Fairfax relaxes in her garden as she reads a letter from Kuen Heui Hong of Seoul, Korea. The lad is sponsored by the Creative Thinking group of San Francisco of which Mrs. Alstrom is the leader. She recently returned from a trip to visit the child and was given the Korean clothing she wears here. The skirt, which begins just below the armpits, is of an organza-like material, very sheer and in a vivid blue-green color. The top, designed similar to a short bolero, is of white cotton embroidered lace. Her white silk socks are cut wide and lined and her slippers are of rubber, dyed blue with hand painted flowers on the heels and toes. Beneath her dress she wears a full-length petticoat made of embroidered cotton. Mrs. Hong presented the costume to Mrs. Alstrom as a token of her appreciation for help given her son.

Scholarships For Maringate

A Samuel L. Banks Jr. Scholarship Fund for the Maringate Nursery School in Marin City has been established through an independent volunteer effort not directly sponsored by the school.

The name Maringate expresses the school's objective as an open gate to inter-racial education for nursery age children in Marin County operated by an inter-racial staff.

The program is offered as a service for families not eligible for Head Start and is an alternative to that program rather than a competition with it.

Maringate is owned and operated by the Tamalpais Nursery School Inc., a non-profit organization. Contributions to the scholarship fund are tax-deductible.

The fund is named for the Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., who has been a community leader in both Marin City and the total Marin County community. He has served on the advisory committee to the Board of Trustees of the College of Marin, the County Committee on Racial Discrimination in Housing, the Marin County Council of Bay Area Social Planning, the Human Rights Commission and is executive director of the American Negro Enterprise, a self-help program through education, employment, voting and public relations.

He is pastor of the Village Baptist Church in Marin City and was recently appointed a director of the Marin County Re-development Agency.

Contributions to the scholarship fund, which is administered by an executive committee headed by the Rev. Banks, may be made payable to the Tamalpais Nursery School, Inc. Banks Scholarship Fund and should be mailed to this fund in care of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, the Boardwalk, Belvedere, 94920.

HELEN HELP US!

Eighth Grade Student Asks For Good Movies At Local Theaters

DEAR MRS. BOTTEL:

I read in your column a letter from an eighth grader asking, "Why can't they make good movies for kids?"

I am the distributor of one of the pictures he mentioned, "Teen-age Mother," and I take issue with him for the following reasons:

1. If the picture is advertised, "Adults Only," how does he know that means "anyone who can pay to get in," unless he has tried it? It would seem to me that censorship belongs with the individual or his parents, since our advertising and title are not misleading. We cannot police every booking or tell a theater owner how to run his business.

2. I wonder where this eighth grader and his parents and friends were when I released "Brighty of the Grand Canyon" last January. Sam Lesner reviewed the picture and said "A splendid family film." Unfortunately, the producer of "Brighty" will be lucky to get back his investment, whereas the producer of "Teen-age Mother" is already making another picture on his profits.

I know that most of the Walt Disney movies are very successful, but they are the exceptions. Other producers have tried and probably will keep on trying to bring entertainment to the children, but unless they are profitable to both the theater and the distributor, simple arithmetic says to change the policy.— JACK GILBRETH

DEAR HELEN:

I am 17, and an ardent movie fan. I like well done adult flicks, like "The Graduate," "The Fox," etc. but I do think there is too much emphasis on sex and violence today.

Maybe, as they say, the sordid movies are only reflecting what happens in the world, but we still need movies to save our sanity and to tell us there is still hope . . . not just as "pure escapism" as the producers call it, but to restore our faith.

I'll bet "Yours, Mine and Ours" earns as much money at the box office as five Grade-B "sin and sex" uglies. — FOR MORE UPBEAT FLICKS

DEAR FOR:

You'd better believe it will. Of course "Y. M. and O." probably cost five times as much to produce. Sexy potboilers are cranked out fast; good family-type shows take more time and money, and unless they are exceptionally good — plus expensively promoted — they may bomb.

Nevertheless, the "wholesomes" are always around. I checked the theater page in our local paper today and discovered that at least one-third of the movies listed could be approved for children. Really, that's not a bad average. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I just had an argument with my mother. I said that if your 12-year-old daughter's legs were real hairy, like mine, you'd let her shave them. My Mom said you wouldn't. I'm not sure I'll win, but it's worth a try. — FUZZY

DEAR F.W.:

You won. — H.

Mill Valley Nuptials For Suzanne Caroline Rosse

Suzanne Caroline Rosse of Berkeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin Rosse of Mill Valley, and Charles Maitland McCulloch of Berkeley were married Saturday afternoon at the Mill Valley Community Church.

The bride's sister, Sara Rosse of Mill Valley, was her maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Holly and Mary McCulloch of Berkeley, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs Joseph H. Jensen of Berkeley.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. McCulloch Jr. of Carmel, was served as best man by his cousin, Theodore Pope of Berkeley. Ushers were the bride's brother, Eric Rosse of Mill Valley, and David Clark of Berkeley and Richard Doutt of Mill Valley.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple will live in Berkeley.

Suzanne was graduated from Tamalpais High School and Occidental College and received her secondary teaching credential from the University of California. She teaches art and is doing counseling at Grant High School in Oakland.

She has another brother, Peter Rosse of Brooklyn, N.Y., and is the granddaughter of Frederick G. Fassett Jr., dean of residence, emeritus, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and of Mrs. Herman Rosse of New York City.

A graduate of Webb School in Los Angeles, the bridegroom attended Occidental College and was graduated from the University of California. He is employed as a landscape architect with Eckbo, Dean, Austin and Williams in San Francisco. He is the grandson of Mrs. J. R. Hollister of Monterey.

Packaging And Knowledge Can Save Children From Hazard Of Poison

By LOUISE CHASE

SAN FRANCISCO — While safety packaging is the most promising new approach in keeping the child under five from accidental poisoning with a medication, knowledge about the hazards of common household products eaten by children is also required.

This double-barrel approach to the prevention of childhood poisoning emerged from a report and a scientific exhibit presented at the annual meeting of the American Medical Association by Dr. Alan K. Done and his associates in the department of pediatrics at the University of Utah Medical Center.

Dr. Done, who is also director of the Poison Informaion and Therapy Center, described his experience with children under five who accidentally poisoned themselves with common household products.

He pointed out that the proctor of the Poison Information such as lyes and corrosives caused the highest hospitalization rate, while cosmetics, which were most frequently eaten, caused the least.

Petroleum products — gasoline, naphtha, kerosene, and mineral seal oil — as well as polishes and waxes are infrequently ingested, but have a very high hospitalization rate. Intermediate in terms of "severe poisoning" are pesticides, soaps and cleaners, bleaches, disinfectants, and deodorizers.

That all these products should be kept out of reach of small children goes without saying, Dr. Done noted "However, the more highly toxic should be kept out of the home or their use surrounded by effective safeguards.

"Experience has shown that liquids or pelleted materials are more likely to be ingested in large quantities than powders, solids, or semi-solids. The method of dispensing or packaging is important," the pediatrician pointed out. "For example, a substance available in aerosol form is usually less likely than a liquid in an ordinary bottle to be ingested in large quantities. A bottle having a small aperture, such as is used with many shaving lotions, perfumes, and toilet waters is likely to be ingested in smaller quantities than the same product in a wide-mouth bottle."

On the packaging of drugs, foil or blister packs, or palm-'n-turn caps or bottles which require downward pressure as well as turning, offer greater protections than conventional screw caps.

Dr. Done tested the ability of 123 children between 20 and 40 months of age to open three types of closures, a 'strip pack,' bottles with screw caps, and bottles with other safety closures.

Ninety-three per cent of the youngsters ate most of the 50 small pieces of candy in the conventional screw-top bottle within the 30-minute period allowed. The bottle with the safety closure was opened by sixty-four per cent of the children, but they ate most of the candy. Seventy-eight per cent of the children were able to open at least one unit of the strip pack, but they ate only an average of nine candy pellets in 30 minutes.

The advantage of the strip-pack is two-fold, the pediatrician noted. The effort of opening it is likely to cause the child to lose interest, while the time it takes reduces the number of pellets taken. This allows time for a child to be detected before a potentially harmful dose of a drug is swallowed.

Dr. Done pointed out that more than one out of four accidental child poisonings are caused by aspirin, with adult aspirin being responsible for more than half the hospital admissions for aspirin poisoning. Virtually all the severe cases are due to adult aspirin ingestion. Yet, the physician emphasized, safety measures have been applied only to the children's preparation.

Mrs. Ferris Will Lead Xi Chapter

A native of Marin County and graduate of San Rafael High School is the new president of Xi Alpha Xi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. James Farris of San Rafael has been a member of the organization for 15 years and has served as vice president, extension officer, recording secretary and corresponding secretary.

Beta Sigma Phi is an international organization created for women in search of cultural and social activities. Joan Farris's chapter has several projects and activities planned for the year. They will sell Christmas cards, help support a needy family and raise funds for a donation to Cystic Fibrosis. One social activity is planned each month.

Joan and her husband, a line sub-foreman for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., have a son, Kenneth, 10-years-old, and a daughter, Susan, 6-years-old. The new president is also a member of the Blessed Sacrament Women's Guild and the Gallinas Valley Little League.

Other officers to be installed on Sept. 12 are Mesdames Oliver Hanger, vice president; Norman Peterson, recording secretary; Dale Robertson, corresponding secretary; Donald Sutherland, treasurer.

MRS. JAMES FARRIS

Ready The Youngsters For School With Health Check

CHICAGO, Ill. — School time often means health check-up time for millions of children and its a good idea to prepare them for both.

Since check-ups are generally benign experiences — no shots, no medicine, no hurts — they may represent a fine opportunity for your child to make friends with his doctor and to learn good health habits.

A pamphlet prepared by the American Medical Association, "Your Friend the Doctor," has much information, simply presented, that would fascinate a child. It gives a name to the instrument doctors use to look into the eye and explains it use. It gives some pointers on how to protect the eyes while watching TV; it explains what a stethoscope is and how it works; what the reflexes are; gives some simple health rules and diet advice and includes a useful little glossary of health words.

There Are 2 Ways To Clean Your Carpets . . .

DEEP STEAM Method
DEEP STEAM removes soil from both the pile of the carpet and the carpet backing. Since no brushes or scrubbing action is used, there is no distortion of the carpet pile. The powerful extraction action of the DEEP STEAM process lifts matted pile to "like new" appearance. The need for frequent professional cleaning is reduced because deeply embedded soil is removed and leaves no residue in the carpet fibers to collect dirt. During this cleaning operation every fiber is coated with a SOIL RETARDANT to keep your carpet clean longer.

BRUSH-SHAMPOO Method
The conventional shampoo method uses preliminary vacuuming to remove some loose soil. The shampoo equipment, with harsh brushes, utilizing different types of liquid detergents or powders, scrubs the remaining soil DEEPER into the carpet . . . and even with the help of a wet vacuum fails to remove most of the soil or residue. The soil and detergent or powder residue left in the carpet then works its way to the surface and attracts more soil. Soon your carpet may appear more soiled than before!

DEEP STEAM WALL-TO-WALL CARPET CLEANING . . .

★ With DEEP STEAM the soil is extracted, not scrubbed deeper. And, that's the difference!

★ How does it work? Steam, a cleaning agent and a soil retardant are applied under pressure deep into the carpet fibers. Instantly the soil and moisture are removed . . . NOT SCRUBBED DEEPER LIKE THE OLD-FASHIONED WAY.

★ The pile doesn't have that washed look . . . looks like new. And, because of the powerful extraction system, the moisture is completely controlled. NO SHRINKAGE IS GUARANTEED.

★ DEEP STEAM is gentle . . . uses no brushes, no scrubbing action, no detergents. It's completely safe for all fabrics. And, it's economical, because thoroughly cleaned carpets wear much longer and they don't have to be cleaned as often.

Now! You can have your UPHOLSTERED FURNITURE DEEP STEAM CLEANED . . .

B52 Bombers Continue Runs Around Saigon; Ground Lull

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers kept up their protective attacks on the approaches to Saigon, but otherwise the Vietnam War appeared today to have slipped into another of its periodic lulls.

The eight-engine bombers struck eight times last night and today at suspected enemy positions west and northwest of Saigon, mostly 25 to 35 miles away from the capital.

B52 raids have concentrated increasingly closer to Saigon in past days, indicating enemy units have slipped or fought their way through the outermost defense lines set up to protect the capital. But a senior U.S. source said it appeared that enemy units were not ready for a full-scale ground assault on Saigon within the next few days.

A terrorist in the capital killed two Vietnamese and wounded eight with a grenade today in front of the U.S. AID headquarters. Hundreds of Americans were at work in the big concrete building in one of Saigon's busiest sections. Preliminary reports indicated that the terrorist escaped.

Some observers thought the enemy had begun its long-expected third offensive when it shattered a two-month lull in the war on Aug. 18 with fierce attacks in Tay Ninh Province along the northwest approaches to Saigon. The fighting spread to other areas, and the enemy radio announced last week that an offensive was under way.

But the U.S. Command refused to characterize the action as the third major enemy offensive of the war, even after the first week of fierce fighting when 7,500 enemy troops were reported killed by allied forces.

Enemy forces gradually have gone back to shelling and terrorist attacks less costly to them in terms of casualties—and have launched no significant ground attacks in the last four days. However, allied forces searching for the enemy have touched off some fighting.

U.S. Marines sweeping the rolling hills just below the demilitarized zone reported killing 43 North Vietnamese troops in two clashes yesterday near the Rock Pile outpost and the now abandoned Khe Sanh combat base. Spokesmen said only 10 of the Leathernecks were wounded, thanks to air and artillery support.

Five ofthe Americans were wounded when their helicopter was shot down and destroyed in an assault on enemy positions three miles north of the Rock Pile.

In other sweeps, South Vietnamese forces reported killing 37 enemy soldiers south of Da Nang and 50 near the Duc Lap Special Forces camp in the central highlands. A spokesman said government casualties were light. Heavy fighting has raged on and off in those areas in the last two weeks and about 2,000 enemy soldiers have been reported killed.

Enemy gunners struck in the Da Nang area again today, hitting a U.S. supply base with 25 mortar shells. Spokesmen said American casualties were light. An enemy rocket attack on Da Nang yesterday killed 27 civilians and wounded 46.

A delayed report said 350 enemy mortar and artillery shells hit U.S. Marine positions just below the demilitarized zone yesterday, but the Marines were well dug in and suffered no casualties.

Allied troops found 10 Russian 122mm rockets aimed at the U.S. military compound at Kontum in the central highlands and wired to go off in series. One rocket had hit a highway next to the compound, but the others did not fire because of a short in the wiring. An ordnance team disarmed the 100-pound rockets.

Humphrey Leads Labor Day Parade

NEW YORK (AP) — Organized labor, nearly 100,000 marchers strong, celebrated its special day and kicked off a presidential campaign with a seven and one-half hour parade up Fifth Avenue yesterday.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey opened his campaign for the presidency with a 25-block walk at the head of the parade beside local and national labor leaders. It was the city's first Labor Day parade in five years.

WITH MEANY

The vice president marched with George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and Harry Van Arsdale, president of the million-member New York City Central Labor Council.

He then joined them for a 90-minute stint on the reviewing stand in front of the public library between 41st and 42nd Streets.

The marchers included the usual number of bands and fife and drum corps, as well as more than 100 floats representing unions from the Screen Actors Guild to the National Maritime Union.

The largest contingent appeared to be from locals of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. They were joined by iron workers, bartenders, firemen, waitresses, seamen, sandhogs, and printers for the hike from 26th Street to 62nd Street.

SENATE FOES

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, a Republican and the Democrat who hopes to unseat him, Paul O'Dwyer, also joined the marchers.

While the union members carried placards supporting the vice president and waved enthusiastically as they passed the reviewing stand, the crowds along the way were not unusually large.

The onlookers were usually only two deep. Some of them carried anti-Humphrey signs such as "Dump the Humph," and "1-2-3-4, we don't want this dirty war. 5-6-7-8, we don't want your fascist state."

Security precautions were extensive with more than 100 city policemen and Secret Servicemen marching in a large box formation around the vice president. Other Secret Service men watched from rooftops with binoculars and about 500 policemen stood guard around the public library.

PEACE MARCHES

With the exception of a group of about 200 peace demonstrators who crashed the parade, the crowd appeared more interested in observing the holiday than expressing political sentiments.

Late in the afternoon, about 200 antiwar protestors succeeded in joining up with agroup from the District 65, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union at 26th Street.

Iowa's Senate Bidding Expected To Be Close

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hold the spotlight today on primary elections in Iowa, Nevada and North Dakota.

In Iowa, the GOP has a four-man battle for the nomination to succeed retiring Republican Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper. Gov. Harold E. Hughes appears certain to win the Democratic bid.

In Nevada, the GOP contest to oppose Democratic Sen. Alan Bible pits first-term Lt. Gov. Ed Fike of Las Vegas against veteran prosecutor William Raggio of Reno. It rates as a toss-up.

In North Dakota, two men who have never held office battle for the GOP bid to oppose Democratic Gov. William L. Guy, who seeks an unprecedented fourth two-year term. The GOP contestants are Ed Doherty, a weekly newspaper publisher from New Rockford, and Robert P. McCarney, a Bismarck car dealer.

Light votes are expected in Iowa and North Dakota, but Nevada officials predict a 60 per cent turnout.

The first polls opened at 7 a.m. local time in all three states. The last ones were to close at 7 p.m. in North Dakota and Nevada and 8 p.m. in Iowa.

The GOP senatorial field in Iowa includes former Rep. James Bromwell of Cedar Rapids; State Sen. David M. Stanley of Muscatine; former state attorney general Dayton Countryman of Nevada, and William Plymat, a Des Moines insurance man.

The polls indicate a close decision between Bromwell, who was endorsed by Hickenlooper, and Stanley, who announced his candidacy six months before Hickenlooper said he would retire after 24 years.

Hughes, a three-term governor who made the nominating speech for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, is opposed by Des Moines insurance man Robert Nereim.

State Treasurer Pat Franzenburg is unopposed for the Democratic bid to succeed Hughes as governor. The GOP has a three-way fight among Robert Ray, who quit as GOP state chairman to make the race; Donald Johnson, a past national commander of the American Legion, and former State Rep. Robert K. Beck.

Iowa's seven congressmen all seek re-election, but only GOP Rep. John Kyl of Bloomfield faces primary opposition. Iowa also picks candidates for the state legislature and county offices.

In Nevada, eight-term Rep. Walter S. Baring is given the edge for renomination over Richard Ham of Las Vegas. The Republican race is between two Reno men — State Sen. James Slattery and Clyde Mathews Jr., a former Baptist minister.

Saigon Paper Suspended Over Story

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government today suspended a newspaper owned by its ambassador to Washington for printing an Associated Press story about Premier Tran Van Huong's anticorruption campaign.

The government censored parts of the story from vernacular newspapers, the first time such censorship has been used since Huong was appointed premier four months ago.

A government spokesman said the Associated Press story was "completely groundless and imaginary." But although Ambassador Bui Diem's English-language Saigon Post was suspended indefinitely, no action was taken against the Associated Press.

The government spokesman took particular pains to deny the report in the news report that two bags of contraband had been shipped from Hong Kong addressed to the wife of President Nguyen Van Thieu. The story said the address was a phony meant to get the bags past customs and they were stopped when the first lady told customs she was expecting no such shipment.

GI Killed, 59 Hurt In Brig Race Rioting

SAIGON (AP) — Racial incidents triggered the riot at the U.S. military jail at Long Binh last Friday in which one American prisoner was killed and 59 other persons injured, the U.S. Command said today.

A spokesman refused to elaborate on the racial incidents but said officials "have determined that most of the injuries were caused by prisoners fighting among themselves."

He said Pvt. Edward O. Haskett of St. Petersburg, Fla., died from head injuries inflicted on him by other prisoners. Officials reported two suspects in the killing have been tentatively identified.

Fourteen of the injured—10 prisoners and four guards—are still in hospitals, but they are reported in satisfactory condition. The acting warden also was injured.

Four prisoners who escaped during the riot are still missing. A fifth was caught.

A total of 25 temporary and semipermanent structures in the stockade were destroyed or damaged in fires started during the hour-long melee, 15 miles east of Saigon.

Files for all the prisoners were destroyed, and some prisoners "still remain uncooperative and refuse to identify themselves," a spokesman said. These prisoners have been segregated from the other prisoners, he said.

The crowded condition of the jail was initially believed one cause of the disturbances. Officials revealed today that the jail population of 733 has been reduced to 586 in recent days, with 147 prisoners returned to their units after a review of their records and of recommendations by their commanders.

Proposed Dump Wins Backing

The proposed dump in Tennessee Valley was endorsed at a meeting of the Sausalito Citizens Council board Thursday night, according to Carl W. Spring, corresponding secretary.

Seven of the nine directors were present at the session in the home of Ruth Sisson. There was no one in the audience.

The board also named a nominating committee consisting of Glenn Hall, Harvey Coverley, George Chapman, William Remensperger and Fred Sumner to submit a slate of directors. Four are to be elected at the annual meeting in November.

NEW KENTFIELD FIRE HOUSE TO OPEN

The new $289,000 Kentfield Fire Station, which includes quarters for the sheriff's substation is completed, and firemen have been busy for several days moving their possessions from the old fire house next door. The moving operation is expected to be completed today, and the new building will be in use tomorrow.

NEARING ITS END — The crowded old Kentfield Fire Station will cease to exist this week. Scheduled for demolition, it is being replaced by the new building next door.

MOUNTAIN CHASE

Youth's Story Of Tam Terror

A long-haired young man from Mill Valley, hiking at sunset on Mount Tamalpais Friday, was terrorized for an hour by a hippie-hating thug, Marin sheriff's deputies reported today.

Rogers Greene, 18, of 204 Elm Street, told officers his night of persecution began innocently with an offer of a ride at 8 p.m. Friday, as he walked along the Bolinas-Ridgecrest Road, knapsack on his back, guitar under his arm.

WATCHES SUNSET

Greene was watching the sunset beyond Bolinas when a man in a late-model pickup truck pulled alongside and offered him a ride, deputies reported.

When Greene said ''no thanks," the man, aged 23-25, climbed from the truck and asked angrily, "What's wrong with you. Don't you want a ride?" officers said.

Greene reported the driver then called him a hippie, grabbed his guitar and broke it in two. He ordered Greene to kneel beside the road while he punched him on the back, officers said.

Greene, deciding that the man was deranged, ran. His assailant chased him a quarter of a mile and Greene, to run faster, dropped his pack alongside the road and ran into the bushes to hide.

HAILS DRIVER

When he thought his tormenter was gone, he emerged from the brush to hail a passing motorist and explain his difficulty. The motorist was apparently not interested and drove on, the sheriff's report said.

Greene said he was searching for his discarded knapsack when the truck roared back up the road and the driver got out to give chase again.

Greene, with his tormenter in pursuit, ran up and down the road. As he passed the truck again, Greene darted in and grabbed the driver's rifle.

But, as he continued his frantic run, he said, the rifle slowed him down and he dropped it. Then, thinking he would be shot, he started running in a zig-zag pattern to make a more difficult target, officers said.

Finally, he darted off the road again and hid in bushes as his assailant returned to the truck and drove up and down the road with his lights off, he said.

When the truck disappeared, Greene walked home without his backpack or guitar. He arrived home at 3 a.m. Saturday, he told deputies.

He described his tormenter as about six feet tall and weighing about 185 pounds. The truck may have been a 1968 Dodge pickup, he said. There was a large, brown, black and white dog in the back. The man had short black hair and wore a white T-shirt, blue jeans and black belt, he said.

Scrappy 71-Year-Old Dents Attacker's Face

William Crockett Head of 1201 Vallejo Avenue, Apt. 8, told police he landed his fist on the young assailant's mouth after he was grabbed in the 1600 block of Center Road about 10:20 p.m.

Head said a young man — with long blond hair, about six feet tall, weighing about 160 pounds and wearing blue pants and shirt — grabbed him by the left arm and someone else hit him on the back of the head.

He said he was knocked unconscious and when he came to his billfold, containing $30 to $40, was gone.

Two Injured When Thrown From Car

Two persons were thrown from a car when it veered off northbound Highway 101 near the Spencer Avenue undercrossing and struck a guard railing Friday afternoon, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Robert Brown, 27, of San Francisco suffered a concussion, multiple cuts and scrapes and was released from Marin General Hospital yesterday. Susan Vallegas, 18, of Daly City, was treated at San Francisco General Hospital for scrapes on her left elbow and thigh.

Hearings Set In Sausalito

Two hearings are scheduled at a meeting of the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

There will be a hearing on the appeal of Sam Zakessian on the approval by the Sausalito Planning Commission of the application of the Edgewater Yacht Co. to convert part of its building on Bridgeway to a restaurant.

And there will be a continuation of a hearing on the planning commission denial to allow the owner of apartments on Lincoln Drive in Marina Vista Subdivision to add more units.

The council will also take a position on the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission's proposed bay plan and adopt a resolution establishing a curfew in Vina Del Mar Plaza.

Arraignment

Carlos A. Rosete, 18, of San Francisco, was arraigned today in Marin Superior Court on a charge he stole a motorcycle in Sausalito Aug. 14. Rosete was ordered to appear Sept. 10 to enter a plea.

Trial was set for the week of Feb. 3. Miss Vasco is charged with having marijuana in San Rafael July 14 and with using a credit card owned by a San Rafael woman to buy more than $1,000 worth of items in April and May.

Car-Bike Collision Injures Young Boy

Roger Eiberger, 10, of 84 Montego Key, Bel Marin Keys, was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday for an injured right leg following car-bike accident.

Roger, son of Heinz Eiberger, was riding his bicycle when he collided with a car driven by Raymond P. Denegri of Novato at the intersection of Octavia Street and Martens Boulevard, San Rafael. Denegri was not cited.

Airman Said Injured By Car

T/Sgt. Charles E. Parsons was reported in good condition today at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital with back injuries sustained Thursday night at the Pacheco Plaza Shopping Center in Novato, according to base officials.

Parsons, whose address is listed as 509 Canal Street, San Rafael, said that he was injured by a car in the plaza about 10 p.m. Thursday night, but did not report it until he went to the hospital at 7:25 p.m. Friday with back pains, according to officials.

Novato police did not have a report of the accident.

Air Passenger Record Surpassed

NEW YORK (AP) — Customs officials cleared a record 18,514 overseas passengers at Kennedy Airport Sunday as the summer tourist season drew to an end.

The passengers arrived on 135 airliners, a customs spokesman said. The flood of incoming passengers topped the 17,301 high set last Aug. 15.

The 'At-Large' Theory Of County Supervisors

We are pleased — and we feel sure his supporters in the Fourth Supervisorial District must be, too — with Thomas T. Storer's assurance that he will not run for Congress two years hence against Republican William S. Mailliard.

In the unlikely event that Mailliard is defeated for reelection by Democrat Philip H. Drath, it would seem extremely unlikely that Storer would contest for the Democratic nomination two years from now against an incumbent. And as Mailliard has given no hint of plans to retire or seek some other office, there is every possibility he will be running again in 1970. So Storer's assurance seems to be a fair guarantee that if he wins another supervisorial term, he will serve it without interruption for another race for Congress.

THE MATTER that aroused suspicion of Storer's intentions remains of interest, however: a fund-raising dinner for his supervisorial campaign sponsored by a 39-member committee, with 37 of the members from outside the Fourth Supervisorial District and 11 of them from San Francisco.

Such a dinner is a rather advanced manifestation of a trend observed in recent years among our county supervisors — Storer no more than some others.

EACH OF THESE supervisors is elected by the voters in one district of the county. To make sure that this gives all an equal voice, the California Supreme Court a few years ago required the county to redistrict.

However, these supervisors — each elected by the voters of an equal district — often claim that they represent, not their districts but Marin as a whole.

They do, of course — as a board of supervisors as a whole. But as an individual supervisor, each represents the district that elected him. It is unfortunate that some of them seem inclined to forget that.

THIS IS NOT to say that each supervisor should be so insular that he would look at everything solely from the standpoint of his home district without regard for the county as a whole. Most major problems that come before the supervisors are county-wide and should be approached on the basis of county-wide interest. But a supervisor should no more ignore his home district than a senator or congressman should ignore his home state or district when he gets to Washington. (Those who do have little luck getting re-elected).

It is, we think, entirely fitting that a county supervisor should be honored by those outside his district, and even by those outside his county, when he has accomplishments of a regional nature. But as supervisor, he should bear in mind first and foremost the interests of his home district — whose voters put him in office.

It is for this very reason that the Supreme Court insists on redistricting — so that the voters will have equal representation wherever they live. "One man, one vote" doesn't mean much if the man elected forgets where the votes came from.

'Buy In Marin' Revival

The "Buy in Marin" campaign started by the Independent Insurance Agents Association and speeded up as an answer to San Francisco Mayor Alioto's sock-the-commuter tax seems to be catching hold unexpectedly well.

It has brought back into action an earlier campaign, started by the Marin County Real Estate Board in 1962. The realty board at that time pointed out that keeping the local share of the sales tax in Marin could help greatly to beat down the property tax. That is just as true today as it was then.

The real estate board still has some of the "Buy in Marin" pins it put out in 1962. They are larger than those being produced by the insurance group, and have an orange background, but the message on both is the same.

Police Actions Ugly In Chicago—But Demonstrators 'Asked For It'

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — No doubt a nationwide hue and cry will go up over "police brutality" as applied in Chicago last week when the forces of the law moved in on the hippies, Yippies, or whatever they're called.

The country-wide television broadcast, which wasn't very pretty to watch, brought home the tremendous power armed forces can exert on a mob when the occasion calls for it. Had the mob been armed, or even partially armed, the situation might well have turned into a free-for-all that would stand as even more of a national disgrace.

While som of the Democratic liberals on the floor of the national convention were protesting the actions of the police and the calling of the National Guard, and threatening to ask that the convention be moved to another city, there was no indication of consideration for what the forces of law and order were up against.

THERE WAS NO mention of the fact that the demonstration was organized in a deliberate effort to disrupt the orderly process of selecting a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

Despite the fact that the television broadcast was sickening to say the least, not much sympathy can be wasted on the demonstrators, even though they were clubbed, kicked and dragged through the streets to the paddy wagons.

These demonstrators asked for what they got, in loud and clear voices. They taunted the police into swift and decisive action, refused to pay any attention to the requests to back up, hurled invectives at the men the citizenry hire to maintain order in the community, wrote nasty words on cars and windows, and generally foreswore the tenets of decent behavior for a melee of unlawful activity.

NO ONE ASKED what the demonstrators were doing in Chicago in the first place, where they came from, how they got to the city, and whether they could offer any solutions to the unfortunate war.

No one seemed to inquire why most of them weren't home working at some kind of gainful employment instead of operating in collusion to create dissension. Also, no one asked the demonstrators who or what was the real factor behind the demonstration, a question that probably never will be answered.

So before there comes a series of protests throughout the country over "police brutality" it seems only fair to expect some thoughtful consideration of the reasons for such action, and the necessity for force.

No man, for any considerable period, can wear one face to himself, and another to the multitude, without finally getting bewildered as to which may be the true. — Nathaniel Hawthorne.

Hippie On Welfare: Simple Definition

In regard to County Administrator Alan Bruce's desire for a definition of "hippie" as related to welfare payments, may I point out the obvious: A "hippie" on welfare is anyone who is physically capable of working to support himself but who either (a) chooses to let others support him rather than work himself and/or (b) chooses a physical external appearance which makes him unemployable.

Certainly anyone has the "right" to dress and act as he sees fit — but only if he is willing to accept the consequences of such action. Nobody has the right to turn himself into a vegetable parasite simply because he doesn't want to work. The money for welfare comes right out of my pocket. I don't resent a penny of it which is given to those who can't help themselves. But I bitterly resent having anyone (like the supervisors) turn it over to anyone who deliberately chooses not to be employable. How would the supervisors react to my exercising my "right" not to pay taxes to support those who simply refuse to support themselves even though they are physically able to do so?

Scenes On Television Shock Viewer

I come away from three days of television viewing of the Democratic convention in Chicago shocked and sick. Four impressions will not be easily dissipated:

1. The incredible over-reaction of the Chicago police and later of the Illinois National Guard to the provocation of the peace demonstrators. These were not looters and shooters; they had no Molotov cocktails; they were not smashing and burning. The right to demonstrate, to dissent has been given much lip service; it now appears we only tolerate it when it operates to the advantage of those in power.

2. The armed guard atmosphere of the convention itself — the barbed wire, the elaborate security precautions at the gates (that obviously were relaxed when Humphrey supporters wanted to bring in demonstrators or bunting), the presence of helmeted police on the convention floor, the lack of freedom of movement of delegates, the swarms of security men in plain clothes who refused to identify themselves to newsmen or delegates.

3. Through it all, the insensitivity of Mayor Daley, who laughed when references were made to the bloody confrontation of police and demonstrators on Chicago streets. . . .

4. The spectacle of the Democratic standard bearer at his hotel headquarters lightheartedly celebrating his victory behind closed blinds and with the acrid fumes of tear gas seeping up through the floor.

Convention Action Branded Betrayal

By engineering the nomination of Hubert Humphrey in the police-state monstrosity called Chicago the Democratic Party machine has handed the presidency to the ineffable Richard Nixon.

It has further alienated millions of Americans who voted for Lyndon Johnson because he promised peace in Asia — and who were promptly betrayed by his immediate escalation of the Vietnam horror.

It has alienated millions of our poor. It has given the back of its hand to millions of our black citizens whose revolution will now reap tragic consequences as a result of this latest betrayal by the party.

It has blasted the faith of millions throughout the world in an America that would live up to its pretentions of participatroy democracy, decency and peace.

As a Democrat for over 40 years this citizen must condemn the cynicism with which the Democratic machine has manipulated the highest hopes and aspirations of our people — and dashed them to the ground. . . .

Governor Ronald Reagan Vs. The Open Primary

(Reprinted from Riverside Press)

Governor Reagan has vetoed the California open primary bill. If the legislature is unable to muster the two-thirds majority to override, the veto is not going to sit well with a lot of people, plenty of members of the governor's own party included.

Last year Governor Reagan managed to keep a similar bill from making its way through the Legislature. Then he porceeded to take advantage of the system he had preserved. He declared himself a favorite son candidate for the presidency. After filing the required number of qualifying petitions, he made it plain that no additional entries would be welcome.

THE GOVERNOR did all this, so he informed his fellow Californians, in order to preserve party unity behind the facade of his favorite son candidacy. Rather than shatter that unity and affront a powerful governor, the other national candidates discreetly stayed out of the Republican primary.

Accordingly, when it came time for Republicans to vote in June, they had no chance to express a preference among the front running candidates. Their choice was limited to voting for the delegate slate that stood for Ronald Reagan's ostensibly favorite son candidacy or abstaining altogether.

Since a major California public opinion poll had showed Governor Reagan backed — as a serious Presidential candidate — by only eight per cent of the state's Republicans, as contrasted with 56 per cent for Richard Nixon and 32 per cent for Nelson Rockefeller, many party members felt they had been robbed of a chance to make their real preferences known at the polls. And under false pretenses, since events by that time made it evident that the favorite son candidacy had become, if it had not been from the start, a serious run at the Presidential nomination.

VERY LIKELY that is why 20 Republicans joined 37 Democrats to push the open primary bill through the Assembly by a 57-11 vote. This is the bill that directs the secretary of state — as in Nebraska, Oregon and Wisconsin — to put on the ballot of each party the names of all avowed or generally recognized national candidates.

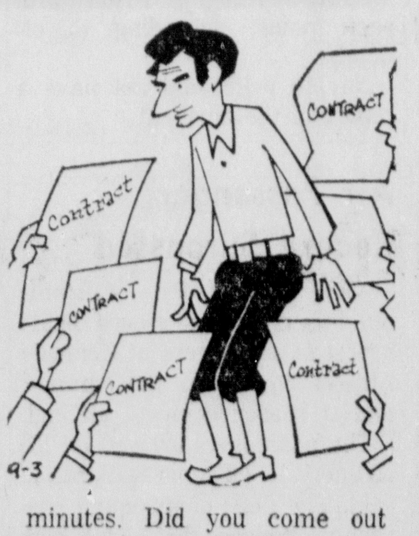
Now the governor has vetoed the bill, labeling it an imposition on candidates or would-be candidates (one would think so!) and as an inhibitor of the "people's responsibility" and the vitality of the democratic process.

That last argument is pretty thin, thinnest of all coming from the man whose manipulation of the present system so markedly stultified the workings of the democratic process in California.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

In Peoria, a distinguished newspaper editor explained why Abe Lincoln, had he lived today, would not have had so much trouble getting a sound education. Because of his height, every basketball coach in the state would be waving a scholarship at him.



Two old retired cronies went fishing together one day at Rangeley Lake in Maine. For three hours neither moved a muscle. Then one got a bit restless. "Confound it, Joe," grumbled the other. "That's the second time you've shifted your feet in the past forty minutes. Did you come out here to fish or dance?"

MARQUIS CHILDS

Chicago Merely Ugly Symbol Of What Confronts Humphrey

CHICAGO — Hubert Humphrey, the good guy, the man of compassion, the mayor of Minneapolis who brought reconciliation to warring political and racial factions, the young senator who fought for civil rights, is billed as a villain. It is one of the cruel ironies of a cruel and unpredictable time.

As the presidential candidate of his party, he appears a prisoner of the past. He must now prove that he can throw off the shackles of his recent past and in the next two months stand before the country as his own man. One of his handicaps is that within his own party is an embittered faction determined to hang that past around his neck and prove he cannot win in November.

Another handicap is Chicago as a symbol — a torn and divided city ruled by a tough old man using the tough old methods of another day. When Mayor Richard J. Daley clamped down his iron jaw and said that Chicago would have the convention or else, the trap was set for Humphrey. What is more, Humphrey knew it and phase there seemed to be nothing he could do about it.

This is the background of the Chicago story. There were those, and Humphrey was among them, who foresaw just what would happen. The argument was over whether to follow the Republicans and take the Democratic convention to Miami Beach where security and at least comparative quiet could be achieved.

SEVERAL MONTHS ago, in a debate at the highest level, the question was put: How will it look if the Democrats hold their convention behind barbed wire and with National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets lining the streets? What kind of impression will that give on the television screens of the nation and the world? This was the argument not only of those who saw a serious tactical error in the making, but also of the security people.

Daley had, however, an ally who could throw the ultimate weight in the balance. President Johnson said that Miami Beach was a rich man's playground and the Democrats would not go there. It was symptomatic of the credibility gap that when this reporter printed an account of that argument, the White House indignantly denied.

So the script for Chicago began to take shape, and the shape has been uglier than even those with the gloomiest forebodings could have foreseen. When Daley pulled the string to block a peaceful protest in the vicinity of the convention hall, the Battle of the Conrad Hilton became almost inevitable.

As Humphrey is saying, as he knows perhaps better than anyone in the country, Chicago is not an isolated case. The breakdown may be more advanced here because the confrontation between the haves — the rich, affluent haves — and the have-nots is more brutal and more naked. The romaticism of Chicago's brawling past, Carl Sandburg's "hog butcher of the world," is today simple violence, the suppressed hatred of the ghettos that broke out in an orgy of looting and burning after the assassination of Martin Luther King.

GOING TO the country, candidate Humphrey must win over a substantial segment of opinion to the belief that he can as President start to remake the crumbling cities. Humphrey talks about a Marshall Plan for the cities, and while the phrase may have been unfortunate, since rebuilding urban America is not really comparable to the rehabilitation of war-ravaged Europe, the thrust of his meaning is there. It will take money, money, money and taxes, taxes, taxes.

Richard Nixon, his opponent, says that money is not the answer. He called first for a cut of $8 billion in the domestic budget and then a more modest cut of $6 billion.

The immediate problem for Humphrey is how to conduct a national campaign with any hope of order and civility. The far-out war protesters and the McCarthites promise to try to break up his public meetings.

They will picket, they will shout, they will use every conceivable tactic to make it impossible for him to take his case to the country. He cannot cloak his movements in secrecy, as President Johnson has had to do for the past year or more because of the threat of mass demonstrations or worse.

Nor is reliance on television a sufficient answer. Television is not Humphrey's happiest medium of communication. He is at his best when he is before a crowd. Then he comes through as a warm and compassionate man striving to move the country forward in the tradition of the Democratic presidents in the recent past.

Dubcek Put On Probation, May Soon Face Ouster

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI)—Liberal Czechoslovak Communist leader Alexander Dubcek has been warned by the Soviets that he is on "probation." He will be ousted if he fails to carry out the Kremlin's dictate to the letter, diplomatic sources said today.

The Russians allowed Dubcek to return to Prague with the firm understanding he will stick to the Moscow terms and will make Czechoslovaks bow to them.

But Moscow continues to distrust him and others of his key backers in the government and party leadership and would push him out of power at the first sign that he is wavering, the sources said.

HAVING GONE to the length of outright military invasion of Czechoslovakia, the Kremlin leaders will have no compunction about taking any or all measures they consider necessary to make Moscow's hard line prevail in Prague, the authoritative diplomatic informants said.

A major party purge is expected to be urged by the Soviet Union within Czechoslovakia in the next few weeks.

MOSCOW HAS already charged that Czechoslovak Communist party members have joined the "counter revolutionaries" and are out to split the party and to undermine its ability to act.

Diplomatic sources said it was becoming doubtful whether in the circumstances Dubcek will, in effect, be able or allowed to function much longer.

They said the Kremlin and its agents in Prague are "keeping a sharp eye" on the man they fear and distrust most. They apparently hope to discredit him in weeks to come by making him carry out the harsh terms dictated in Moscow.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

SEPT. 3, 1958

An Independent-Journal survey revealed that San Rafael residents pay a lower tax than any other city residents in Marin, with an average home bill totaling $347 for the year.

20 YEARS AGO

Sept. 3, 1948

Residents of Greenwood Beach on Richardson Bay demanded that the Marin County Health Department remove a 1,000-pound seal washed up on the beach.

Novato Back To The Old Days —Hospital Now, But No Ambulance

Novato is back where it was many years ago as far as ambulance service is concerned.

For many years while the city was growing, victims of accidents had to wait for an ambulance to come from San Rafael. There were times when traffic moved slowly on Highway 101 and the ambulance was delayed.

Various civic clubs talked of financing an ambulance. There was talk of outfitting one for either the police or firemen to operate. Before anything was done along those lines, Michael Mannick started the Novato Ambulance in 1963.

When it was not a financial success, he sold to Mercy Ambulance Co. It, too, lost money and on July 1 of last year, Jack D. Kinney, owner of the Novato Manor Convalescent Hospital, took over the ambulance service. After some hasseling with the board of supervisors, Kinney said he was losing too much money and stopped the emergency service.

WITHIN A WEEK there have been two accidents which clearly demonstrated the need for closer ambulance service. The victims had to wait for what seemed an endless time for an ambulance to buck the traffic from San Rafael to reach the scene.

We bring up this history of ambulance service in hope that someone somewhere will find a solution to it for the North Marin Area, where a community of 40,000 people with a hospital must wait for an ambulance to come from another community to serve them.

In one of the accidents, the victim was a boy on a bicycle. With the narrow streets in Novato and the great number of bicycles, we have always wondered that there were not more bicycle-auto accidents.

Deputy Supt. Ralph Giovanniello of Novato Unified School District said that bicycle safety is taught with films, printed matter and actual demonstrations in Novato schools. But the schools cannot do it all. Much should be done by the parents.

We have been observing a pre-school age boy in our neighborhood. He has a tricycle and became good at riding it. His father bought a small bicycle for him that had training wheels on it. The boy soon learned to ride it without the training wheels, and they were removed.

Now that same pre-school boy is riding all over one of the busiest residential streets in Novato. Shouldn't the parents have taught him the basic rules of driving before turning him loose on a busy street?

IF ALL GOES according to schedule, Novato will have its special officer of the Marin County Humane Society to patrol the city to control dogs on Oct. 1. Novato will be the first city in Marin County with its own dog control officer.

This was not obtained without many complaints about dogs and much work by the citizens.

Other cities in Marin have similar dog problems and are probably watching the Novato experiment to see whether it is successful. They may follow Novato's example.

In the meantime, there are some who cannot wait for the humane society to try to enforce the new city dog control law. There have been four cases of dog poisoning and one of cat poisoning in Novato in the past two weeks.

Both animal lovers and those who do not like animals have a very low regard for anyone who would place poison out not knowing what animal, or perhaps child, will get it.

Cyclist Suffers A Skull Fracture

A 23-year-old motorcyclist from Monterey Park, Los Angeles County, suffered a fractured skull and a leg injury early Sunday morning in a car-cycle collision on Highway 101 and San Marin Drive, north of Novato.

One Person Drowns In Lake Tahoe Boat Collision

TAHOE CITY (UPI) — Two pleasure boats, carrying at least eight Labor Day celebrants, collided and sank in Lake Tahoe last night. One person was presumed drowned.

Coast Guard boats patrolled the lake during the night for survivors. Sheriff's divers were called in today after the wreckage of both boats was sighted on the lake bottom.

"We're not sure how many people were aboard the other boat, we think one," a Coast Guard spokesman said as dawn broke over the resort lake, "but we are sure there are no survivors."

He said seven persons aboard one boat, owned and operated by Jordan Carlton, 41, Piedmont, were safely taken to shore by a private boater shortly after the crash.

Sheriff's deputies said the operator of the second boat apparently was the only one aboard, although they expressed fear he might have carried passengers. They did not divulge his name.

The Coast Guard said the boats collided in the dark several hundred feet from a pier and that at least one was traveling "pretty fast."

The spokesman said one craft shattered on impact and sank immediately in 25 to 30 feet of water while the other remained afloat for several minutes with passengers clinging to it. None was reported seriously injured, although some suffered cuts and bruises.

Guilty Verdict To Attempted Burglary

A Marin Superior Court jury on Saturday found James C. Orchard, 22, of Larkspur, guilty of attempted burglary. Judge Joseph G. Wilson set 9:30 a.m. Sept. 27 for sentencing.

Driver Reported Still 'Serious'

David J. Cadwell, 22, of Two Rock Ranch Army Base near Petaluma, was reported still in very serious condition today at Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco, with injuries suffered in an automobile accident Thursday.

Cadwell suffered bruises on his brain, lungs and bruises all over his body, an Army spokesman said. A slight improvement in condition was reported.

He was injured when his car failed to negotiate a curve and overturned on the Tomales-Dillon Beach Road near Shoreline Highway, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Wreck Victim Said In Poor Condition

Frank Reynold Maxwell, 50, of 100 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, was reported in poor condition today at Marin General Hospital with broken ribs and stomach unjuries after his car hit a utility pole late yesterday in Kentfield.

The California Highway Patrol said Maxwell's car hit a pole at 135 Laurel Grove Avenue at 11:45 p.m. after skidding across the road on a curve.

T. N. ALEXAKOS

Computers Can Dish It Out —But Can They Take It?

While in Philadelphia a few years ago, I was staying at the Sheraton which was, at the time, hosting a convention of scientists.

For the amusement and edification of the lay-louts, the Titans of technology had set up in the lobby one of their electronic gadgets, a computer. It was a simple, telephone-booth size piece of equipment, called, I think, Artron Networks, and its sole ability was to ignominiously defeat all who dared challenge it at playing tic-tac-toe.

At first, engaging the machine in this child's game was amusing. But as it continued to win with unerring skill and exasperating efficiency, you could feel your amusement ebbing and your frustration mounting. The metallic clickity-click of its innards and Mephistophelian smirk across its electronic face quickly drained you of hilarity. . .

THESE "THINKING" machines, some developed by IBM, Remington Rand and even Cornell, Stanford and other universities, prompt the question: "Can computers think?"

The reaction often is an indignant, "no!"

But scientists are a stubborn lot and not easily put aside. In tiresome detail they describe the workings of the human brain and then proceed to illustrate how their machines duplicate the same activity.

Their analogy is, of course, heightened through the clever use of terminology, using the same words for the machine parts as for the human parts — brain, memory, nerve impulses, etc.

Soon you begin to have doubts. Maybe that pile of junk CAN think! You catch yourself looking at it suspiciously out of the corner of your eye.

Cynics and non-believers try putting computers down by smugly asking: "Perhaps . . . but can computers create abstractly? Can they create a poem? Write a sonata?"

RECENTLY I WAS at the Boeing plant in Seattle. The Boeing people have a computer which not only can design the enormously complex wing of the SST, taking into account stresses, wing loading, compound curves essential for the wide range of speeds from take-off to 2,000 miles per hour and a myriad of other mind-knotting problems, but for relaxation, the contraption — oops — computer can draw comic strips.

I ask you, if it can draw comics, can poetry be far behind?

It took decades and a couple billion dollars for us to develop a machine that could add a column of figures faster than a Chinese with his abacus . . . but we did it. With that sort of tenacity, determination and know-how, it shouldn't be much longer until we'll have computers composing fugues, writing sonnets and producing television spectaculars.

NOT LONG AGO, a computer-equipped airliner carrying over a hundred passengers flew across the Atlantic to London. Although there was a crew on board, the entire flight, from take-off to landing, was accomplished by electronics, the flight controls untouched by human hands. Soon. . .

So I played tic-tac-toe with the computer and was soundly and repeatedly defeated. What a humiliating experience! Enough was enough! Rolling up my sleeves and spitting on my hands, I again pressed the button, and, at the same time, gave the machine a good kick.

Beat it every time!

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

The rod produces an effect which teminates in itself. A child is afraid of being whipped, and gets his task, and there's an end on't; whereas, by exciting emulation and comparisons of superiority, you lay the foundations of lasting mischief; you make brothers and sisters hate each other. — Samuel Johnson.

It is one thing to show a man that he is in error, and another to put him in possession of truth. — John Locke.

★ QUESTIONS & ANSWERS ★ ON SELLING YOUR HOME

Q. Will a leaky faucet or a torn screen discourage a buyer?

A. If the buyer notices these things it certainly will. Leaky faucets can mean faulty plumbing to a prospective buyer and a torn and unrepaired screen can indicate that you have failed in properly maintaining your home.

If you are considering selling your present home, be sure to enlist the services of a qualified Realtor such as WILLIAM TIMMER. Our knowledge of the market and years of experience will assure you of a successful sale.

ORDINANCE NO. 1662

AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN ADDING CHAPTER 6.72 TO THE MARIN COUNTY CODE PROVIDING FOR THE REGISTRATION OF FIREARMS, AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR VIOLATING OF THE PROVISIONS THEREOF

THE PEOPLE OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DO HEREBY ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION I. Chapter 6.72 is hereby added to the Marin County Code to read as follows:

CHAPTER 6.72
FIREARM REGISTRATION

6.72.010. Purpose and Intent. The repeated failure of the California Legislature to restrict or prohibit the random proliferation of unregistered firearms within the unincorporated areas of the County of Marin and elsewhere represents a clear and present danger to the health, safety and welfare of the citizens and residents therein. To this extent, therefore, it is essential that the County of Marin, pursuant to its Constitutional Police Powers, provides effective local regulation in connection with the registration and transfer of firearms.

6.72.020. Registration of Firearms. It shall be unlawful for any person, within the County of Marin, to own or possess, or to have under his custody or control, any firearm unless said firearm is registered as provided in this chapter.

For the purposes of this chapter, the term "firearm" means any weapon, by whatever name known, which is designed to expel a projectile or projectiles by the action of an explosive, except weapons manufactured prior to 1892 or weapons which are muzzle loaded.

6.72.030 Nonresidents: Registration Procedure. Any person who is staying temporarily in the County of Marin and who brings any firearm required to be registered under this chapter into Marin County shall register said firearm with the Sheriff within seven (7) days after said person arrives in the County.

6.72.040. Application; Contents; Fees. Application for the registration of a firearm shall be made by the owner thereof to the Sheriff of Marin County, upon an approved form, and shall contain:

(a) The name and address of the owner;

(b) A description of the firearm, including the following data, insofar as they may exist; the make, model, manufacturer's number, caliber or other marks of identification of such firearm.

A registration fee of one dollar ($1.00) shall be paid to the Sheriff for the registration of each firearm required to be registered.

6.72.050. Certificate of Registration. The Sheriff upon registering a firearm shall, within ten (10) days, issue a certificate of registration to the owner thereof. Said certificate of registration shall contain:

(a) The information required upon the face of the registration form;

(b) Provision for notice, to the Sheriff, of a transfer of title.

The Sheriff shall transmit a copy of the certificate of registration to the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation in Sacramento. Certificate of Registration shall remain valid until suspended, revoked, or canceled. A certificate may be canceled, suspended or revoked only in the case of an intentional misstatement of fact, or upon a transfer of any interest shown therein.

6.72.060. Transfer of Title. It shall be unlawful for any person owning or possessing a firearm required to be registered under the provisions of this Chapter to sell, give or otherwise transfer title to said firearm within the County of Marin unless said person within five (5) days, notifies the Sheriff of the said transfer, giving the date thereof, the name and address of the transferor and the tranferee and such description of said firearm as may be required in the form provided by the Sheriff.

Upon transfer of title of a firearm required to be registered hereunder, the transferor shall write his signature, and the name and address of the transferee, in the appropriate spaces provided on the certificate of registration and transmit the certificate to the Sheriff. The transferee shall, within ten (10) days of the date of said transfer, register the firearm with the Sheriff.

The Sheriff upon application shall re-register the firearm in the name of the new owner and shall issue a new certificate of registration.

6.72.070. Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00), or by imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not to exceed six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

6.72.080. Exemptions. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to:

(a) Firearms owned and/or possessed by sheriffs, constables, marshals, policemen, members of the California Highway Patrol, and employees of the State Department of Justice listed in Section 817 of the Penal Code of the State of California who are designated as peace officers, other duly appointed peace officers, fulltime paid peace officers of other municipalities, counties, states or the federal government, in connection with the discharge of official duties in the County of Marin.

(b) Firearms held for sale by licensed gun dealers, in the regular course of business.

(c) Firearms held by members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps of the United States, or the National Guard, or organizations which are by law authorized to purchase or receive firearms from the United States or the State of California, in connection with the discharge of their official duties as members of such organizations.

(d) Firearms which are a part of a collection composed of ten or more firearms; provided, however, that a collector shall file, with the Sheriff, on an approved form, containing the information set forth in Section 6.72.030, an inventory of all firearms in said collection, and pay a registration fee in the total amount of Ten Dollars ($10.00). Any change in said inventory shall be reported immediately to the Sheriff.

6.72.090. Confidentiality. All information furnished hereunder shall be confidential and shall be available only to the Sheriff of the County of Marin and other appropriate law enforcement agencies in the proper exercise of their duties.

SECTION II. Severability. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance, or the application thereof, is for any reason held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining portions of this ordinance, it being hereby expressly declared that this ordinance and each section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause and phrase thereof would have been adopted irrespective of the fact that any one or more other section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase be declared invalid or unconstitutional.

SECTION III. This ordinance shall be effective 90 days following its approval by the affirmative vote of a majority of electors after its submission to a vote of the qualified electors of Marin County.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Life Expectancy Nearly Doubled In Last Century

Life expectancy has almost doubled in the last 150 years. The newborn boy or girl born today can expect to live an average span of 75 to 80 years, respectively.

Life can be prolonged by further reduction in infant mortality, childhood accidents, cancer and heart attacks.

VAN DELLEN

We are living in a highly accelerated society. Man is on the threshold of an era when it is possible to prolong life with artificial and human transplants, and the synthesis of important hormones, enzymes, and antibodies.

IN ADDITION, these products and devices will be mass-produced, making them available to all.

We also know that heredity is an important factor in living to a ripe old age. The right combination of genes go a long way in our complex society.

Many authorities believe that there is a need to improve the human species so that emotional, intellectual and physical attributes are adequate to meet the demands faced by man today.

Through genetics, we know now how to avoid the effects of some serious illness. In the past, children with certain hereditary afflictions either died very early or were incapable of reproduction.

They now live, marry, and perpetuate these traits. This is not the two-edged sword it appears to be, because many of these people also pass along desirable traits. Radiation is a bugaboo to geneticists who know that even the best genes may be altered by nuclear weapons.

IMMUNOLOGY offers considerably more than preventing measles and smallpox. Antibodies against cancer are within the realm of possibility. Some scientists believe that 10,000 cancerous cells invade our bodies every day and are halted or neutralized by antibodies.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

CONSTIPATED CHILD

Mrs. E. writes? My 7-year-old son suffers from occasional bouts of constipation. I don't want to make an issue of this problem, but I wonder if he should have a thorough examination.

REPLY

The most common cause for constipation in children is on a dietary basis. There are other causes such as Hirschsprung's disease, rickets, and anemia. But before anything is done about this, it should be established whether or not this child has a problem. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on constipation in children.

INFLAMMATION

R. T. writes: My husband has iritis. Will this go away spontaneously or should he seek medical treatment?

REPLY

Iritis is inflammation of the iris, the colored, shutter-like portion of the visual apparatus. The condition may be acute or chronic. Causes vary from injury, infection, rheumatism, diabetes, and gout to contagious afflictions such as measles or mumps. Treatment involved bed rest and the application of topical steroids. Neglecting this disease in any form may result in irreparable damage to the vision. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on iritis.

SNORES

Mrs. J writes: My husband never snores unless he has had a lot to drink. Can you tell me why?

REPLY

Nasal congestion or complete relaxation may be responsible.

FLASHES AT 38

A reader writes: At 38, I am getting hot and cold flashes. These bouts last about 10 minutes. One day this hot-and-cold business occurred every 20 minutes. What is causing this?

REPLY

This is an emotional or a glandular reaction involving the sympathetic nervous system that controls the circulation of blood to the skin.

DIAGNOSING RASH

A. U. writes: What are the odds that a dermatologist will properly diagnose a rash by looking at it?

REPLY

Ninety-five per cent would be a good average for all physicians, regardless of their specialty or type of practice.

BLUSHING AND SWEATING

A. K. writes: Is there any operation a middle-aged man can have done that will prevent blushing and sweating around the face?

REPLY

Nothing so practical or cheap as a tranquilizer. Banthine and similar drugs may be recommended when sweating is profuse and generalized.

BABY DRY AFTER SLEEP

A reader writes: Does an infant urinate while asleep or only when awake? My baby is dry after 6 hours of sleep.

REPLY

In young infants both possibilities exist. Other tykes are awakened when they need a diaper change and cry because they are uncomfortable.

GOLD FOR ARTHRITIS

E. L. writes: I have been told that 24 injections of gold will cure my arthritis. Before this treatment is started, I would like to know how other physicians feel about it.

REPLY

MATTRESS

A reader writes: If a person dies in a rooming house, should the mattress be thrown out? This man did not have a contagious disease and the bedding is in good condition.

REPLY

No, keep the mattress and get a new roomer.

IRRITABLE COLON

REPLY

No. This is our most common gastrointestinal disease and there would not be enough psychiatrists to treat all victims of spastic colon. Many are highstrung, overly conscientious and extremely tired. The type of personality that goes with these attributes needs common sense, not psychiatry.

FOOT ILLS AND SHOES

B. B. writes: Because of corns and calluses, I wear bedroom slippers most of the day. Is this bad for my arches?

REPLY

Yes. In addition, slippers do not consititute proper treatment for corns and calluses. Well-fitted shoes are better because they help eliminate pressure areas. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on corns and calluses.

GESTATION PERIOD

A reader writes: A friend insists that every baby takes 280 days to be born but I claim 280 days is the average. Who is right?

REPLY

Not birth, but time to develop. You are right, because most babies arrive 10 days before or after the 280th day.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT — Swelling of the extremities may stem from heart or kidney trouble.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS RICHARDSON BAY SANITARY DISTRICT REEDLAND WOODS UNIT I —OFF TRACT LINE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Richardson Bay Sanitary District, Marin County, California, will receive up to, but not later than, 8:00 o'clock P.M. on the 17th day of September, 1968, sealed bids for the award of a contract for the construction of improvements in the District in strict accordance with the plans and specifications therefor entitled, "REEDLAND WOODS UNIT I OFF TRACT SEWER" dated September, 1968, prepared by J. Warren Nute, District Engineer, and on file in the office of the Secretary of said District.

Said sealed proposals or bids shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Sanitary Board of said Sanitary District, Trestle Glen Sewage Treatment Plant, Jefferson Avenue and Tiburon Highway, Tiburon, California, or mailed to 21 Madrona Avenue, Mill Valley, California.

Each bid shall be in accordance with said plans, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the office of the District Secretary.

Said proposals or bids must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed "Richardson Bay Sanitary District, Trestle Glen Sewage Treatment Plant, Tiburon, California" and endorsed "REEDLAND WOODS UNIT I OFF TRACT SEWER."

All proposals shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check payable to the order of the District amounting to ten per cent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District, signed by the bidder and a corporate admitted surety or two individual sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said check shall be forfeited or said bond shall become payable to said District in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen (15) days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the District, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in the amount of one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount so bid, with sureties satisfactory to said Sanitary Board, and which shall be accompanied by a labor and material bond in a sum equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount of said bid, under the provisions of Chapter 3, comprising Sections 4200 to 4208, inclusive, of the Government Code of the State of California.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on July 16, 1968, the Sanitary Board adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which the public work herein provided is to be done for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the contract, a copy of which wage scale is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and also contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for a full and detailed description thereof.

The Board reserves the privilege of rejecting any and all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bid or in the bidding.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of forty-five (45) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of J. Warren Nute, District Engineer, 411 Fourth Street, San Rafael, California, upon deposit of $5.00 per set, $2.00 of which will be refunded if the set or sets delivered are returned in good condition within ten (10) days after the bid opening.

Four Running For Hospital Board Posts

The two incumbents whose terms on the Marin Hospital District board expire at the end of the year have filed for reelection as well as two challengers, according to hospital officials.

Board President George E. Croke and Dr. Gwendolyn M. Campion will run in the Nov. 5 general election for new four-year terms.

Seeking to unseat them will be Jack H. Feller Jr. of San Rafael, a management consultant, and James D. Kilty of San Anselmo, an instructor at the University of California Nursing School in San Francisco.

Deadline for filing for the posts was Sunday.

Novatan Is Fair From Auto Wreck

A 24-year-old Novato woman was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a neck injury suffered Friday in a rear-end auto crash on Novato Boulevard in Novato.

The California Highway Patrol said Joan Seebach, 49 San Felipe Way, was a passenger in a car driven by Jean Ann Kozlowski, also 24 and of the same address. The Kozlowski car was involved in the accident near Eucalyptus Avenue with one driven by Robert H. Wilcox, 19, 715 Olive Street, Novato.

TV REVIEW

Chicago Will Linger For Many Years

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The abiding memory of television's 1968 summer, even more than the numerous programs about race relations, will be the explosive Democratic National Convention.

The Democratic get-together in Chicago last week was one of the most fantastically illuminating experiences video has ever offered. And, because of the nationwide television exposure, it will go down in history as a landmark development in the eventual, inevitable decline and fall of national political conventions as we have known them.

LIFETIME STUDY

Historians, sociologists—and maybe psychiatrists—could devote a lifetime to studying the various social forces and personalities that came together in the fateful four-day conclave at this burning moment of national concern.

For, heroes and villains aside, what was happening before televiewers was that the Democratic Party—a less homogeneous body than the Republicans—had reached the historic moment when it finally had to pay for its all-embracing composition of differing groups and viewpoints.

This was high drama of the proportions of Greek tragedy. for, as the forces of inevitability mark these hellenic tragedies, so did they also, in Chicago, illustrate how time and the new freedom of outlook and attitude had caught up with the old pros and hot young bloods of the Democrats.

GENERATION GAP

Never before had the nation, through television, seen such a clear and awesome example of the generation gap. For, whatever one's viewpoint, this convention was above all a titanic struggle between old and new—not so much in terms of chronological ages, but in attitudes that set establishment backers against new-style dissidents who demanded control of the party that once took them for granted.

The establishment won, of course, but the televised spectacle made clear beyond any doubt that never again would Democratic Party chieftains know the certain security and entrenchment of more halcyon days—and that the clock was breaking up the old political ways.

Thus, even amid the cracking of heads in the streets, the outrageous manhandling of the news media and the heated specific differences within the party, there was also—from the distance of the television set at home—the curiously sad, human and provocative feeling that, above all, an era was passing on. It was a gigantic, wracking, wrench of a change. A huge sob should have orchestrated it. Time was marching on, and nobody, not even the winners, could do anything about it.

Orientation

Orientation for seventh graders entering Adaline Kent School in Kentfield will be from 8:30 a.m. to noon Friday at the school.

Rule Out Tom Sheehan As Giants' Manager

Tom Sheehan said matter-of-factly that he wasn't a candidate to succeed Herman Franks as manager of the Giants. At least, he made it sound factual and serious although anyone who knew the jovial Irishman realized he was making a little joke.

Thomas Clancy Sheehan was 66 in 1960 when Horace Stoneham put him in charge of the Giants after firing Bill Rigney in mid-season. At the time Sheehan was the superscout of the Giants. He had been the team's superscout since 1948 when Stoneham hired him to lure latent talent away from other major league clubs.

Stoneham's 1960 appointment of Sheehan as Rigney's successor was intended as a reward to Sheehan for his work as a superscout, particularly in 1953 when he followed Johnny Antonelli, then with the Braves, for a whole season.

Deal Proved To Be Good One

Antonelli didn't impress the Braves with his 12-12 record in 1953 but he did impress Sheehan who learned that the Braves really wanted Bobby Thomson, the fellow who hit that "shot heard round the world" for the Giants in 1951. So an Antonelli-Thomson deal with a couple of other players involved was made in February, 1954. And that year was a pennant one for the Giants because Antonelli posted a 21-7 mark.

Thus, Stoneham, when the opportunity presented itself in mid-season 1960, rewarded Sheehan. But instead of being a reward, the manager's job became a nightmare for Sheehan.

"I'm glad it's all over," said Sheehan at the end of the 1960 season. "At 66 I'm no kid anymore. The job of managing the Giants was slowly driving me nuts. It was a relief to let go of the reins."

Stormy Experience For Tom

It was a brief but stormy experience for Sheehan who rapped modern day baseball on several occasions, one of them being in Pittsburgh where he defended his use of three starting pitchers in relief in a 7-7 deadlock with the Pirates.

"What's wrong with using starting pitchers in relief?" he bellowed. "I'd rather beat the Pirates one game than Philly two. In my day, pitchers didn't go in for trainers, whirlpools and sun tans as they do now. As I look at it, pitchers get too much rest anyway. Know how many innings I pitched in 1920? It was 380.

"If you made a couple of mistakes when I was playing you'll find yourself in Peoria. Now, they must have some kind of union or something because you can't say much to a player if he kicks one."

Back To Superscouting

After his unhappy field experience with the Giants, Sheehan went back to superscouting. And in 1961 he counseled Stoneham on another deal that was to lead to a pennant. It was the Billy Pierce-Don Larsen trade by the White Sox for Eddie Fisher and four other young Giants. Fisher was the only one of the Giants to be heard from later with the Sox. But Pierce and Larson made their presence known immediately with the Giants in 1962. Without them the Giants never would have won the '62 pennant.

So it was suggested to Sheehan when the subject of Frank's successor came up for discussion the other day that perhaps Stoneham might want to reward him again.

"I'm not a candidate," said Sheehan. "At 74 I'm even too old to run for president."

Another Finley Man Resigns

OAKLAND (UPI) — Bob Zuk, the Oakland A's Southern California scouting supervisor the past three years, has turned in his resignation, the third in the A's front office in recent weeks.

Art Parrack, A's farm club director, and Ray Swalloe, A's supervisor of scouts, resigned previously. Bill Cutler, club vice president, quit earlier in the year.

Zuk, who lives in Redlands, gave no specific reason for his resignation but said he plans to stay in baseball with another organization.

Swimmers Pull A Few Surprises

Don Schollander and Charlie Hickcox had one event and set world records at the U.S. men's Olympic trials, yet in their final appearances both were only also-swams.

FIFTH

Schollander, the Olympic star who won four gold medals in 1964 including one in the 100, finished fifth. Hickcox after winning the 400 and 200 individual medleys in world record times plus the 100 backstroke wound up fourth behind young Horsley.

"He had a lot of tough races," said Horsley of Hickcox when asked if he were surprised the Indiana University star wasn't close to him.

Holder of American records in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle, Zorn found it no surprise that he had beaten the rest of the U.S. stars.

"MY RACE"

"I swam my own race," he said. "I wanted to go out as fast as I could and then come back."

He was out in 24.9 and, unlike the morning preliminaries when Schollander overhauled, the 6-foot-4 Zorn remained strong and finished well ahead.

Four from the 100-meter racers qualified for the Olympic squad and two of those already had made it, but not Zorn who concentrated on the 100.

Ken Walsh of Long Beach, who swims on the same Phillips 66 team with Zorn and set the world record at 52.6 last year, finished second in 53.03.

SPITZ THIRD

Mark Spitz, 18, winner of the two butterfly races, took third at 53.30. Stephen Rerych, third in the 200 freestyle, was fourth in the 100 at 53.35.

Mitch Ivey, 19, of Stanford made the squad with a second-place finish in the backstroke at 2:08.82. Gary Hall, 17, of Long Beach qualified in his second race with 2:09.50 for third place. Hall earlier had finished third in the 400 individual medley.

Novato Driver 2nd In Petaluma

Mill Valley's Greg Moore also posted a second in the semi-main event and Rick Powell of San Rafael won the stocker semi-main event. Powell also placed third in the first heat of the Stocker Division.

Other Marin County drivers placing high on the program were Ron Ames of Novato, first in the second heat of the Sportsmen's Division, Bob Filippi Jr. of Mill Valley, second in the first heat, and Moore, third in the first heat.

A's In Split With Tigers

OAKLAND (AP) — Detroit catcher Bill Freehan combined brains and brawn. The result earned the American League-leading Tigers a doubleheader split with the Oakland Athletics.

Freehan's 21st homer of the year, a 10th-inning shot off reliever Diego Segui, gave the Tigers a 4-3 victory in the nightcap of yesterday's Labor Day twin bill. Oakland captured the opener 4-0 on Jim Nash's four-hitter.

FIRST RUN

Freehan's blast was the first run allowed by Segui in 16 appearances extending through 24⅔ innings. Segui, 5-3, curve ball pitcher, said after the game he figured the Tiger catcher would be looking for sliders and breaking pitches.

So he unleashed a fast ball—and Freehan unloaded it over the left field fence. It brought Pat Dobson, 4-5, the victory.

"I thought he might try and slip a fast ball past me," Freehan said, "and I was ready for it. I wasn't trying to hit a homer. If you do try, you never do."

FIRST GAME

In the first game of the 6½-hour doubleheader before 20,464 fans, Nash, 11-11, struck out 10 batters and walked only one—that one an intentional pass—to defeat Mickey Lolich, 13-9.

The Athletics gave Nash all the help he needed in the fifth inning when they exploded for three runs.

Joe Rudi's single and John Donaldson's walk paved the way. Nash sacrificed the runners up a base and Bert Campaneris doubled home the first run. Danny Cater's two-run single capped the big frame.

Reggie Jackson's single, two infield outs and first baseman Norm Cash's throwing error gave Oakland its final run in the eighth.

HUNTER TONIGHT

The teams go at it again tonight at 8, with Jim Hunter, 11-12, facing Detroit's Earl Wilson, 12-11.

Nash was at his best against Detroit's best, left fielder Willie Horton. Each time the powerful Tiger came to bat he returned to the bench a strikeout victim.

"With a guy as strong as Horton," Nash said, "you hope he hits a single rather than a homer. I was lucky to strike him out four times."

The twin-bill split, combined with a divided doubleheader between second-place Baltimore and the New York Yankees, enabled the Tigers to maintain their moderately wide seven-game lead.

NOT YET

But Detroit Manager Mayo Smith said he's not ready to start planning for the World Series.

"We have 23 games to play and we're just trying to keep winning," Smith said.

The trying hard, he said, includes facing teams like the Athletics, last year's patsies in the league when they called Kansas City their home but now in fifth place and just 3½ games out of third.

"They are the most improved team in the league," Smith concluded.

49ers Trade For Speedy Receiver

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Speedster Clifton McNeil will join the San Francisco 49ers, who hope he can turn into the deep pass-catching threat the team needs badly.

The 49ers traded a high draft choice to Cleveland yesterday for McNeil, who has been lost in the shadow of the great Paul Warfield for the Browns.

BIG ONES

The lanky McNeil has caught only five passes in two years but four of them have been for touchdowns. He is a five year veteran from Grambling.

The big question for 49ers fans is who will do most of the throwing to McNeil and the other Prospector receivers.

Coach Dick Nolan says he will name his No. 1 quarterback within a few days, a choice between George Mira and John Brodie.

HURTS

Meanwhile, Nolan said reserve defensive back George Rose has an injured knee and halfback Doug Cunningham a neck sprain. Both will miss Friday night's game against Los Angeles. Charley Krueger, who missed the loss to Oakland with a pulled muscle, and Bob Windsor, who got a charley horse in that game, both should be ready.

Giants Take One, Draw In Another

Marichal Wins His 24th Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Leo Durocher, Chicago Cubs manager, doesn't like Juan Marichal's quick pitches, to say nothing of those quick bats of the San Francisco Giants.

Marichal won his 24th game of the season yesterday and the Giants pounded out 17 hits as they beat the Cubs 8-4 in the first game of a doubleheader.

IN SECOND

The teams met today with Gaylord Perry, 13-12, of the Giants pitching against Ferguson Jenkins, 16-12.

All individual records count in the tie game but it will be replayed from the start as part of a doubleheader tomorrow.

As Marichal breezed along in the third inning of the first game, Durocher complained bitterly that Marichal was working too fast, and then took his time returning to the dugout.

SMILES

Marichal smiled and waved to the dugout before a crowd of 35,000 saying, "Aw, go sit down, will ya?"

Jack Hiatt homered and Jim Ray Hart hit two doubles and a single for the Giants in the opener.

Marichal gave up nine hits, including Glenn Beckert's solo homer in the sixth.

THUNDERBIRD GOLF

15th Hole Is Key To Murphy Win

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Bob Murphy, $30,000 richer after winning the Thunderbird Golf Classic, attributed it all to a key shot on the 15th hole.

The chunky, red-haired Murphy held a one-shot lead over Bob Lunn as the pair, playing together, approached the 190-yard, par three water hole.

Lunn, hitting first, put his ball 10 feet from the pin but Murphy got within six feet. Then Lunn missed his putt and Murphy made his to take a two-stroke lead.

"BEST SHOT"

"That was probably my best shot of the round," Murphy said. "I just took a six iron, hit it up in the air and it landed near the hole."

Murphy ended with a 68 yesterday to give him a 277 for the four days of play over the 7,035-yard, par 72 Upper Montclair Country Club course. It was his second consecutive tour win.

Lunn, who also won two straight tournaments earlier in the year, finished with a 69 for 280 and a tie for second with Australian Bruce Crampton, also with a 69.

Homero Blancas was fourth with a 72 for 282 as third-round leader Gary Player skied to a 78 for a fifth-place tie with Dan Sikes, 70, and Jack Nicklaus, 71. Defending champion Arnold Palmer shot a 71 to finish in a four-way tie for 10th place at 286.

288 FOR RON

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael shot a final round 71 for a 288 total and $2,250.

The biggest challenge to Murphy's victory was a downpour that threatened to wash out the entire round just as he was approaching the 18th green.

It delayed play for 1½ hours and left large lakes in the bunkers and fairways.

"It seemed like it rained forever," Murphy said. "I had to feel I had it won with only a short pitch to the green."

If play had been washed out, the entire final round would have been played over, with Player resuming the two-stroke lead he took into Monday.

FOR GOOD

Murphy took the lead for good when he dropped a 15-foot putt to birdie the par three eighth hole. He birdied the ninth to pick up another stroke, but dropped one at the 10th.

Player, in the threesome immediately behind him, noticed the bogey, and tried to pick up the extra stroke on the 530-yard, par five 11th.

A Big Drop In Baseball Attendance

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lack of a pennant race and some threatening weather places resulted in a big drop in major league baseball attendance on Labor Day.

Only 156,250 turned out for the 17 games, compared with 251,469 for 18 games a year ago when the American League was involved in a four-team race for the championship.

Four doubleheaders helped the National League attract 82,635, compared with 118,368 in 1967. In the American, where there were three doubleheaders, 73,615 turned out, compared with 113,101 last year.

A crowd of 35,061 jammed Chicago's Wrigley Field for a doubleheader with the Giants, but only 5,240 attended Los Angeles' twinbill at Philadelphia. The Detroit at Oakland game drew the largest crowd in the American—20,464.

Bob Gibson Wins No. 20

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Gibson is good, but even he needs help now and then. Like, perhaps an occasional ache in the opposing pitcher's ankle.

Gibson, St. Louis' ace right-hander, won his 20th game of the season last night, beating Cincinnati 1-0 with some 10th inning aid from Gary Nolan's heel and Julian Javier's bat.

Javier stroked the leadoff homer that broke the scoreless duel and gave the Cardinals their victory. But if Nolan's aching Achilles tendon hadn't acted up, Gibson might still be pitching.

Nolan had throttled the Cards on five hits and fanned eight through the first nine innings but when the pulled Achilles tendon in his right ankle started bothering him, Reds' Manager Dave Bristol brought in submariner Ted Abernathy.

Javier, who had only two homers all season, greeted Abernathy with No. 3 and Gibson had the run he needed.

In other National League action on a busy Labor Day, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Houston 6-1 and 4-3 in 10 innings, Atlanta topped New York 3-1 and then battled to a 2-2 tie ended by rain after six innings, San Francisco battered Chicago 8-4 before the nightcap was halted by darkness tied at 1-1 after nine innings, and Philadelphia swept two from Los Angeles 5-4 and 7-5

The four-hit shutout was Gibson's 12th of the year and it marked the third time in the last four seasons that the Cardinal ace has reached 20 victories. He missed only in 1967 when he was out for two months with a broken leg.

Gibson struck out eight and two of the four singles he allowed came with two out in the 10th inning as the Reds staged a last-gasp rally.

Bob Veale pitched a three-hitter and Donn Clendenon drove in three runs, helping Pittsburgh to its first game victory over Houston. Rusty Staub homered for the Astros.

The Pirates completed the sweep when Chris Cannizzaro's single drove in Bill Mazeroski with the winning run in the 10th inning of the nightcap. Mazeroski had singled and raced all the way to third when center fielder Jim Wynn let the ball get past him.

Mike Lum's two-run homer carried Atlanta past New York in their first game with Cecil Upshaw saving the victory for starter George Stone, who happens to be his cousin.

The nightcap went six innings before rain ended it. Bob Tillman homered for the Braves and J.C. Martin's two-run triple accounted for both Met tallies.

Doug Clemens doubled and scored Philadelphia's deciding run on Don Lock's pinch single in the sixth inning asthe Phillies nipped the Dodgers in the opener.

The Phils struck for five runs in the third inning of the nightcap for a 7-1 lead, but needed 3 2-3 innings of scoreless relief pitching from Dick Farrell to repulse a Dodger comeback and nail Woodie Fryman's first victory since July 27.

American Tennis Clan Can Expect Pruning

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) —The American contingent was expected to get a sharp pruning today in the $100,000 U.S. Open tennis championships.

Sixth-seeded Dennis Ralston, a Bakersfield pro, was on the ropes in the third round late yesterday when rain halted play with Denny trailing two sets to one against Joaquin Loyo-Mayo of Mexico. Two other seeded Americans faced powerful Australians in fourth-rounders.

Another Yank has to go when seventh-seeded Clark Graebner of New York, the U.S. Clay Courts champ, tangles with New York attorney Gene Scott. In addition, Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y., and Bob Lutz of Los Angeles have a score to settle in their third round match which also was halted by rain.

AGAINST EMERSON

Army Lt. Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., seeded fifth, was paired against first year pro Roy Emerson while 13th-seeded 40-year-old Pancho Gonzalez of Malibu, Calif., had to face second-seeded Tony Roche.

Except for 12th-seeded Chuck Pasarell of Puerto Rico, put out by Yugoslav pro Nikki Pilic, and Ralston, who was in trouble against Loyo-Mayo when play was scheduled to be resumed, the seeded men advanced yesterday with ease.

Laver trounced 47-year-old Pancho Segura, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1, and meets Cliff Drysdale of South Africa.

Ashe trimmed Paul Hutchins of England, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1, for the slot against Emerson, who beat Jeff Borowiak of Berkeley, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0.

John Newcombe of Australia, seeded fourth, knocked over former Wimbledon champ Chuck McKinley in straight sets and 40-year-old Torben Ulrich of Denmark scored by 6-4, 6-4, 6-2 over Chuck's younger brother, Bob McKinley of St. Ann, Mo.

ROSEWALL WINNER

Third-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia downed Marcello Lara of Mexico, losing only five games, and Roche beat pro Alex Olmedo of Peru, 6-2, 8-6, 6-4.

Graebner ousted pro Roger Taylor of England, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 and Scott bounced Paul Gerkin of East Norwalk, Conn., 6-2, 8-6, 6-4.

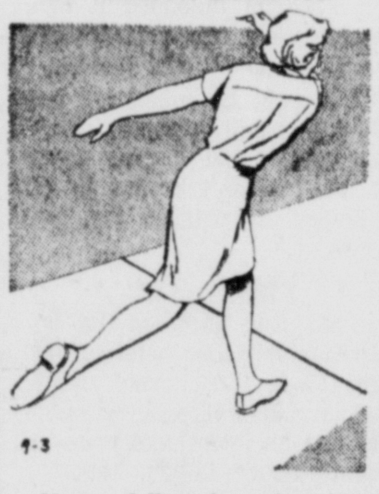
In women's singles, Billie Jean King of Berkeley, and Ann Haydon Jones of England led the field into the quarter-finals.

Mrs. Jones downed Vicky Rogers of Rye, N.Y., 6-0, 4-6, 6-1, and today meets Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., a 6-3, 6-2 winner over Wendy Overton of Ormond Beach Fla.

Mrs. King, winner over Denise Carter of Los Altos, 8-6, 6-3, waits until tomorrow for a match against Maryna Godwin of South Africa, winner over Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif.

BOWLING TIPS

BY MARION LADEWIG



Your follow-through, like your backswing, should be straight. In today's illustration, we see how a bowler too often will allow her arm to cross her body after letting the ball go, instead of reaching straight out as the hand comes up. Picture your arm as making a smooth arc close to your side, both on the backswing and on the way forward.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Freehan and Frank Robinson fired the shots heard 'round the upper reaches of the American League, but the underworld quivered from the restless rumblings of a gentle giant.

While 10th inning home runs by Detroit's Freehan and Baltimore's Robinson preserved the status quo in the pennant race yesterday, towering Frank Howard went on a six-hit spree that put him back in the Triple Crown picture and led the lowly Washington Senators to their first doubleheader sweep of the season.

Freehan hit his 21st homer with two out in the 10th, giving the first place Tigers a 4-3 nod over Oakland after the Athletics took the doubleheader opener 4-0 behind Jim Nash's four-hitter.

Robinson's 14th homer, a one-out shot in the 10th, sent the runner-up Orioles past New York 4-3 for a split of their twin bill. The Yankees won the first game 4-2 with a four-run third inning flurry.

The divided doubleheaders left Detroit seven games ahead of the Orioles in the September stretch race.

Howard, the major league home run leader with 39, boosted his batting average eight points to .283 by spraying four singles, a double and a triple around D.C. Stadium as the last-place Senators trimmed the Chicago White Sox 1-0 and 11-3.

The 6-foot-7 slugger drove in two runs for a season total of 98, four less than league RBI leader Ken Harrelson of Boston. He trails Minnesota's Tony Oliva by six points in the batting race.

Minnesota downed Boston 5-1 on Jim Kaat's three-hitter and Cleveland beat California 4-2 in A.L. single games.

Frank Robinson drilled his sudden death homer off Lindy McDaniel, who entered the game after the Yanks rallied for three runs in the seventh to overcome a 3-0 defecit. Bobby Cox's two-run single capped the comeback. Merv Rettenmund hit a two-run homer for the Orioles.

Bill Robinson's two-run single keyed the Yanks' decisive third inning burst in the opener, which swept Mel Stottlemyre to his 18th victory against 11 losses. Steve Hamilton pitched three hitless innings of relief for New York after a 44-minute rain delay in the sixth.

The Senators' first sweep, in their 17th doubleheader of the year, carried them within two games of the ninth place White Sox. Right-hander Jim Hannan, 9-3, pitched a four-hitter in the opener and Washington pushed over the only run in the fifth on Luis Aparicio's error and singles by Howard and Brandt Alyea.

Howard went 4-for-5 in the second game and Alyea drove in three runs with a single, double and his fourth homer. Southpaw Barry Moore, backed by a 14-hit attack, picked up his first victory since May 16.

Kaat struck out 11 and blanked the Red Sox after Russ Gibson's solo homer in the fifth. Rich Rollins provided all the needed offensive support with a three-run homer in the third.

Tony Horton drove in one run with a single and scored a pair, leading the Indians past California. Rookie Mike Paul took a two-hit shutout into the ninth, but needed help from Eddie Fisher, who choked off a two-run Angel rally.

Murphy Wins Thunderbird Golf Crown

green with the wind in my face, but I decided to gamble, and go for it," he said. "I had seen that Murphy had dropped one and I thought I could tie it again."

Instead, he hit the ball into a brook guarding the green and had to scramble to get a bogey.

After that, Lunn, Crampton and the rain were the only challengers. But Crampton dropped two strokes behind on the 13th when he drove behind a tree and could not reach the green in two.

RICH ROOKIE

Then Murphy disposed of Lunn at the 15th and he was on the way toward bringing his earnings for the year to $94,745.07 highest ever for a rookie.

The win gave Murphy more than $70,000 in earnings in the last three weeks following a tie for second in the Westchester Classic and a victory in the Philadelphia Classic.

"I love it, I love it," the former NCAA and National Amateur champion said. "It must be my time. Everything's happening right."

OLYMPIC TORCH ACCIDENT

Spanish athlete Gregorio Rojo holds hands to burned face after the Olympic Torch he was carrying through the streets of Barcelona, Spain, exploded yesterday. In background is fellow runner Miguel Mariana who was also burned severely. He was carrying an alternate, gas-filled torch that touched Rojo's flame, causing the explosion, believed to be the first such accident in the 72-year-history of the modern Olympics. (UPI Telephoto)

Yarborough Captures Southern 500

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — For a guy who was racing a farm tractor down a row of cotton when he was 10 years old, Cale Yarborough is doing all right for himself in the business of driving high speed race cars.

The 29-year-old ex-farm boy gained an unprecedented fourth superspeedway victory of the year yesterday when he edged Ford's David Pearson by an eyelash in the Southern 500-mile classic for stock cars.

It was the most brutal assault by men and machines on Darlington Raceway since the course was built for 75-mile-per-hour cars in 1950.

"It was the hardest race I've ever driven," said the blond Yarborough, who drove a Mercury. "But I am happy that I've finally won here. It's my speedway, even if it has been unkind to me in the past."

Yarborough, who lives 10 miles from Darlington in the town of Timmonsville, had won both 500 mile events at Daytona Beach, Fla., and one at Atlanta earlier this year. He collected $25,415 for his Labor Day effort, running his total winnings for the season to $126,066.

Pearson, whose 14 victories lead all NASCAR drivers this season, added $10,850 for his second-place finish, bringing his winnings to $100,327.

It is the first time in NASCAR history that two drivers have gone over the $100,000 mark in a single year.

"I don't mind going to the bank after this one," smiled Yarborough. "That kind of money is tough to come by anywhere, but especially on this track.

"In this case, however, the victory means more than the money. I've been trying to win here since I was 16."

Third was Buddy Baker, in a Dodge Charger, followed by Charlie Glotzbach in another Charger and Paul Goldsmith in a Dodge Coronet.

Cal's Gridders Don Full Gear

BERKELEY (UPI) — California Bear footballers don full gear today for the first time this fall to go through a filmed, controlled scrimmage.

Coach Ray Willsey said the film will help him evaluate progress of squad members.

Ron Miller showed extraordinary accuracy in place kicking during yesterday morning's workout. He missed only two out of 12 attempts from between 37 and 47 yards. The rest of the squad went through the usual passing and agility drills.

Davies Brothers In Cycling Race Finish Circle

The racing Davies brothers of San Rafael, members of the Marin Motorcycle Association racing team, were in the finishers' circle, as usual, Saturday night at the Sportsman's Short Track events in Santa Rosa.

Brother Ron was fifth in the 250 class amateur main event. He broke for the first turn in third position and was well on his way to capturing the lead when a double spill forced a restart. The second time out Ron was boxed in and had little chance to improve his position. This was Davies' swan song in the amateur class since he has garnered sufficient points to meet his brother Dan in the expert class in future races.

Other Marin racing team members finishing the expert main were Jimmie Richards, fifth; and Russ Powell, both of San Rafael.

Del Smith, of Larkspur, finished fifth in the 100cc Novice main; while George Newhart, Mill Valley, was seventh in the 200cc Novice main.

MEADERS' spot detectives uncover spills and stains you may not even know about. Then it's up to Meaders' skilled spotter. In his laboratory filled with dozens of cleaning compounds he analyzes and removes spots from your garment before it goes into the cleaning machine—and again after, if necessary. Here's a safe bet: if Meaders can't remove a spot, it probably can't be done.

Edwards: No Negro Boycott

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — American Negroes won't boycott the Olympic Games in Mexico this fall, says the man who tried to keep black athletes from participating.

But Harry Edwards, in a letter to the third National Black Power Conference, which ended here Sunday, said Negroes will wear black arm bands and he hoped they would pass up victory stand ceremonies.

Edwards said in the letter read to delegates that the boycott was cancelled because it failed to win enough support from black athletes.

BOWLING

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — Tim Harahan of Encino defeated Don Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., 236-216, last night to win the $3,000 first prize in the Professional Bowlers Association $30,000 Rochester Open Tournament.

AUTO RACING

HERSHEY, Pa. — Bert Brooks, a 48-year-old stock car driver, was killed in a collision during the featured 100-mile race at the Hershey Stadium Speedway.

HORSE RACING

NEW YORK — Damascus, $2.80, caught More Scents with a torrid stretch drive and captured the $108,200 Aqueduct Stakes by 1½ lenths.

DEL MAR, Calif. — Quicken Tree tied the world record of 1:46 2-5 for 1⅛ miles in winning the $32,450 Del Mar Handicap for a $17.40 mutuel payoff.

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — Three Oh's, $8.20, sprinted 400 yards in 20.06 seconds to win the $602,000 All-America Futurity for quarter horses, the world's richest horse race.

PRO FOOTBALL

NFL's 'Operation Face Saving' Gets Big Boost

Operation face saving received a tremendous boost over the holiday weekend.

But two big hurdles still face the National Football League in its belated effort to stave off humiliation by the American League.

Philadelphia choked off a late Boston rally for a 22-20 victory in yesterday's only exhibition to give the NFL a whopping 5-1 edge in weekend inter-league matches.

That whittled the nine-year-old AFL's once commanding lead in head-to-head combat this summer to only 11-10.

But time is running out for the NFL, which made a shamble of the junior circuit a year ago. It has only two more opportunities to set straight earlier misfortunes.

Detroit, NFL, tests New York, AFL, and Atlanta, NFL, meets Miami, AFL, Saturday in the last of the inter-league clashes until next January's Super Bowl.

And, the NFL must win both to avoid losing the exhibition season.

Philadelphia, plagued by injuries and victim of three straight pre-season losses, was coasting along toward an apparent easy victory when the Patriots suddenly took charge.

Defensive back John Charles swiped a King Hill pass, deftly eluded a couple of tacklers and raced 64 yards untouched to cut the Eagles' lead to 22-14 with 6:04 gone in the final period.

A couple of minutes later, Jim Cheyunskii recovered a punt return by Philadelphia's Al Haymond on the Eagle 25. Only three plays later, rookie quarterback Tom Sherman launched a 23-yard pass to Aaron Marsh in the end zone.

But the Patriots' rally was cut short by the clock, and Boston ended its pre-season schedule with a 1-3 record.

Meanwhile, several teams spent the holiday making some personnel adjustments.

Baltimore placed rookie quarterback Terry Southall of Baylor on waivers and traded George "Butch" Wilson, the Colts' tight end the past five seasons, to the New York Giants. Wilson was considered payment for Earl Morrall, acquired by the Colts last week as a backup for quarterback Johnny Unitas.

In an effort to shore up a week defensive line, Green Bay traded flanker Bob Long and rookie running back Doug Goodwin to Atlanta for defensive end Leo Carroll and a future draft choice.

The New York Jets placed tackle Jim Harris on waivers for the second time in eight days and also released defensive tackle Dennis Randall.

Holiday Magic Is Purchasing All Inventory Of Its Supplier

A multi-million dollar expansion program undertaken by Holiday Magic, Inc., San Rafael, has resulted in the need for more products — so the company has entered into a contract with its principal supplier, Synergistics Industries, Inc., to acquire its entire existing products inventory.

Synergistic, also located in San Rafael, is widely believed to be an integral part of Holiday Magic — or a subsidiary. It is not. Formerly known as the Zolene Corp., it is separately owned. True, it is the manufacturer of most of the cosmetics which have been sold by Holiday, but in recent months it has also been selling to other cosmetics distributors.

In this transaction, Holiday Magic does not acquire all future output of Synergistic, although undoubtedly it will continue to buy from this manufacturer. According to Holiday Magic president and board chairman William Penn Patrick, the firm will also buy from other manufacturers, "resulting in a greater selection of product formulas."

Holiday Magic does acquire something more from Synergistic at this time — Synergistic's 30,000-square foot warehouse and distribution facility at 169 Jacoby Street, San Rafael, where present inventories are stored, and another one of 23,000 square feet at Atlanta, Ga. However, Synergistic still has its place at 25 Tiburon Street, San Rafael.

And Holiday Magic has also picked up another vice president in the deal — William Brogan, who has been with the manufacturing company since 1965 and a vice president there since 1967. He will now be in charge of Holiday Magic's purchasing, distribution, plant personnel and all functions directly relating to the product side of the business.

LAWRENCE V. (BERN) BERNARDI of Marinwood has been promoted to corporate advertising manager of Lucky Lager Brewing Co. He joined the company in 1961 as media advertising manager, was promoted to regional sales manager for Hawaii in 1965 and to merchandising and sales promotion manager in 1967. Before joining Lucky he was San Francisco manager for Grey Advertising.

Noe

JAMES A. NOE of Albany is new assistant manager at Wells Fargo Bank's Greenbrae office in the Bon Air Shopping Center. Formerly credit officer at the Richmond office, he succeeds Gerald M. Gunn of Tiburon, who has been assigned to the training department. Noe has been with Wells Fargo since 1964.

A NEW OFFICE — Hicks and Bala Real Estate Co., Inc., was opened in August at 135 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley. Grand opening ceremonies were yesterday.

Principals are Mrs. Patricia H. Hicks and Mrs. Maria W. Bala, both previously with Walburn Realty. Mrs. Hicks worked there in 1963-64 and again recently. Mrs. Bala was with Walburn eight years. Both live in Mill Valley.

MARIN MACHINE PRODUCTS, San Rafael, recently acquired a new piece of equipment, said to be the only one of its kind north of the Golden Gate Bridge. It is a Sthrom Swiss automatic screw machine and according to owner Robert Goguen, it will enable the company to produce diametrical products to the precision of .0008 inches, with a tolerance of plus or minus .005 inches.

Trouble is, Goguen reports, because of its complexity it will take from six to 18 months to become completely familiar with the multitude of jobs the machine can do. But after that Marin Machine Products expects to turn out operations it never even thought of before.

WILLIAM K. KITCHEN of San Rafael, an officer of the Canners League of California, San Francisco, and president of the Northern California Society of Association Executives, represented the latter organization at last week's convention of the American Society of Association Executives at Atlanta, Ga.

DODGE FAMILY SPORTS CAR

The 1969 Dodge Charger retains last year's silhouette but has a number of refinements. Included are a plush leather interior, new grille and tail light treatment, now vinyl roof, several engineering innovations and a new Model 500 Charger for the performance-minded. Cars will be shown Sept. 19 at Nave Dodge and Dodge Dart, Novato, and Marin Dodge, San Rafael.

Stocks Close Higher In Moderate Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher in moderate trading today after the long Labor Day weekend.

Prices rose from the start, were trimmed by some profit taking late in the afternoon, but finished well into plus territory.

Cities Service, a fractional loser, also was high on the active list, thanks to a block of 85,000 shares. Gillette, down 1½, traded on a block of 70,300 shares.

U.S. Smelting was active and up a couple of points following news it had agreed in principle to merge with Hecla Mining. Hecla, wiping out an early gain of a point or so, traded about unchanged.

Seeburg advanced a couple of points while City Investing, Sunasco, Avent (new) and Wickes Corp. all advanced more than a point in heavy trading.

Control Data sank more than a point as profits were taken on its rebound of last week. Occidental Petroleum was active and off about a point.

Xerox was down nearly 5, IBM 2, CIT Financial about a point.

Johns-Manville, up 2, reflected further strength in the building supply group.

Executive Moves Are Big Business

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—"How to succeed in business by moving around" may be the latest corporate twist.

A junior executive with a large company today can move as many as two or three times in a single year or six times in 10 years.

But while the young man in business may be merely content with a migratory existence, the moving and storage industry is elated.

Revenues from company moves, which climbed to a record $350 million in 1967, are second only to government contributions to this billion dollar industry.

One out of every five—or 40 million — Americans changed homes last year.

And this rate will increase, according to Harold J. Blaine, president of the American Movers Conference, the industry's trade association.

"Many companies now shift as many as 200 executives annually," he said. "With a few corporate giants, the figure exceeds 1,000."

With the emergence of the transient "organization man," multibranch corporations have expanded their functions to include real estate brokarage.

Nearly all companies pay total moving costs and travel expenses for the employee and his family, and a majority of companies allay the costs of house hunting.

"One out of four companies will even make up all or part of any loss the transferee suffers in the disposal of a home," Blaine said. "Some have special departments to handle the buying and selling of houses left behind. Others will pay what they deem a fair market value for a home an employee can't sell in a reasonable time."

All of this real estate activity costs money—as much as $7,500 per transfer. Moving bills alone average about $850 each.

United Financial To Acquire Firm

LOS ANGELES (BW) — United Financial Corp. of California, a savings and loan holding company, has reported that agreement has been reached for the acquisition of Conejo Savings and Loan Association — United's fourth a cquisition this year.

The agreement has been approved by the boards of directors of both institutions.

Conejo Sanvings with assets of $15.3 million, is based in Thousand Oaks in Ventura County near the Los Angeles County line.

Conejo Savings will be merged into one of United Financial's two subsidiary associations — either United Savings of California or United Savings of Century City.

Medical Electronics Business Growing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Growing rapidly, sales of medical electronic equipment now represent an annual market estimated at $300 million, according to Henry Siegel, chairman of Computer Instruments Corporation of Hempstead, N.Y.

"All indications point to continued growth in this field, with medical electronics expected to expand into a billion dollar industry in the next decade," he said.

Will Split Of Stock Hurt Market Price?

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a teen-ager who owns 20 shares of Marsh Supermarkets given to me a while ago by my uncle. I've heard rumors that they're splitting. Can you tell me what a two-for-one split means? How many shares will I get for my 20? Will the market price change? —R.B.

A. Since writing your letter, you may have seen the public announcement of this split. Stockholders receive, as of Sept. 4, new shares in the amount of their current holdings, bringing your total shares to 40.

When such a split takes place, the market price changes in the corresponding ratio. Your shares after the split will be quoted at about half their presplit price.

Your total market value will remain unchanged. All previous share earnings will be similarly adjusted to facilitate comparison with postsplit earnings.

Companies split their stock for various reasons, and splits usually help to build profits (or reduce loses) for the shareholder. Lower priced shares attract more investors, and this activity tends to buoy prices.

Dividends are often increased on the new split shares as you may have noticed in the news release on your stock.

The old rate of 20 cents quarterly has been lifted to 22½ cents. Marsh Supermarkets has established a good earnings uptrend which seems likely to continue, and I advise you to hold all your shares.

What are "pink sheets"? — A.Z.

A. "Pink sheet" is Wall Street vernacular for the daily compilation of over-the-counter stock prices published by the National Quotation Bureau. Included in this service are the names of dealers making markets in unlisted issues together with their locations, telephone and teletype numbers and the current bid and ask prices for each stock.

Penn Life Reports Acquisitions

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Pennsylvania Life Co. has reported substantial gains in assets, reserves, life insurance and total income for the six months ended June 30.

J. D. Bain, president, emphasized that these gains do not include National Central Life Insurance Co., Kansas City, Mo.

Penn Life purchased substantially all of National Central's 850,460 common shares at $30 per share on July 1. The acquisition will add another $10 million in assets and approximately $10 million in annual premium income to Penn Life.

Penn Life, a holding company, owns all the stock of Pennsylvania Life Insurance Co. and Pennsylvania Securities Co., both based in Beverly Hills.

Penn Life also recently acquired two California-based mutual fund sales organizations in an exchange of stock. Earlier this week Penn Life announced an agreement in principle to acquire United Silver Springs Associates group of 17 eastern insurance sales agencies in an exchange of stock valued at more than $5 million.

Property Research Expanding Operation

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Property Research Corp., Los Angeles-based investment management firm, has expanded its operations into Northern California with the opening of a regional office in San Francisco.

The new office in the Wells Fargo Building represents the first step in a planned nationwide expansion program. The company plans to open additional offices in the East beginning next year.
